“150 Years of Grange” Traveling Exhibit

A timeline poster with 24 captioned photographs that highlight the organization’s history and accomplishments is the centerpiece of an exhibit for libraries and historical museums. If there’s a display case that is larger than the poster, objects (ballot box, sashes, seal, gavel, motto, books, etc.) and photos of Grange halls in the area are added. If there’s no display case, an artist’s easel that sits on top of a table or low bookcase can hold the poster securely.

The Corvallis-Benton County Library was the first to display the exhibit. Librarian Erin raved about the exhibit and their patrons’ response to it. May 1 Jay Sexton moved the exhibit to the Philomath Community Library. A second copy was mounted on a 20’ wall at the Sandy Public Library.

Here’s the schedule for the remainder of the year:

June

Albany Main Library
State Grange Convention

July

Albany Carnegie Library
July 24-August 23
Rainer Public Library

August

Hermiston Public
August 25-September 4
Log Cabin at State Fair

September

Forest Grove City Library
Bandon Public Library

October

Silver Falls Public Library

November

Phoenix Public Library
Eugene Public Library

December

Eugene Public
Lowell City

Above: The 150 Years of Grange in the Corvallis-Benton County Library.

We are still scheduling Ontario Community, Sherwood Public, and the Southern Oregon Historical Society Research Library in Medford.

Most libraries display exhibits for one month, but the range has been two weeks to two months.

We have three copies of the timeline poster so can accommodate five more libraries in 2017. We only have one firm date for 2018. If your library is interested, contact Marilyn Reiher at m_reiher@comcast.net.

We are especially interested in booking locations in District #5.

National Master to Attend OSG Convention

Betsy Huber, Master of the National Grange will be our guest at the 144th Annual Convention of the Oregon State Grange. Elected in 2015, she formerly served on the NG Executive board from 2006-2014. She was born and raised on a dairy farm in Chester County, Pennsylvania and is a life-long Granger.

See pages 6, 10-14 for more convention information.

12 Display Cases! Help!

The biggest challenge will be the Multnomah County Central Library (previously known as the Portland Public Library), which is scheduled for April 28-June 24, 2018. All 12 display cases must be filled! They are three different sizes. The four largest are the size of a coffin (3’ wide x 6’ long).

The library staff were taken by the photo on the timeline of Jeanne Taylor’s prize winning quilt block. They wanted assurance that the actual quilt block will be exhibited. While historic photos and newspaper articles can be used, they really want 3-D objects. A plan for the theme of each display case needs to be submitted soon. Then in October a design plan for each display case is required.

So help is needed. If you or your Grange has photos or objects that you think might be appropriate and are willing to loan, please contact Marilyn at m_reiher@comcast.net. She is also looking for experienced fair booth designers, who would be willing to design a case or two.

The Central Library will host an Opening Reception for the exhibit. They will supply refreshments. They will also print and mail invitations to 500 addresses we supply as well as their own mailing list. We will provide five speakers, each of whom will speak no longer than five minutes. The Oregon State Grange can schedule two programs during the exhibit period. They are looking for demonstrations, not lectures. They clearly have years of experience managing these display cases and know what works.

 President ~ Oregon State Grange

Are you ready for our annual convention? I wish I could say we are in the office, but we have a long ways to go! The good news is that I have been really busy recording the names of our new members and getting their new member packets ready for mailing. We still have not received first quarter reports from 20 Granges, but I am happy to report that we have added nearly 200 new members! While the first quarter also shows drops for non-payment of dues, we are on our way to our goal of a net gain!

All the boxes of goodies for the GrangeUp program were delivered by early in May, giving everyone ideas for connecting with their current members as well as potential members, and highlighting the benefits of this program. I hope that your Grange is making the effort to increase your membership.

I also hope that your Grange will continue to stay in touch with the Grange leader who brought you the box and banner. These individuals are ready to help as they can or to pass along questions to me or their committee Director. We are all working toward the shared goal of increased membership and participation. The State Grange is working to raise the awareness of the Grange throughout the state.

One of the highlights at our convention this year will be a "GrangeUp '17 Pep Rally" to keep the momentum going. This will be Monday evening. All members are encouraged to attend.

Bailey Barks!

I heard a good joke the other day. Q: What do you get when you cross a dog with a calculator? A: A friend you can count on!

That was really just for my Mom, her being the bean counter in the family. She has been busy getting ready for the State Grange Convention. Dad has also been busy finding me a babysitter. Sounds like I'll be well taken care of by Nephew Justin, and maybe I'll get to spend some time with Sophie, his dog. We have a great time together, tearing around the yard and then flopping down wherever in the house for a good snooze. But I will be thinking of all of you guys at the Grange meeting and wondering if you all brought an entry for "Bailey's Good

Resolutions

Having the Pep Rally will also give everyone a break from the work of the week. Currently we have received over 80 resolutions! Many of these are due to the resolution we adopted last year that would sunset any policy over ten years old. Concerned Grangers made a concerted effort to make sure that policies they believed in will not slip away without a review. The fact that we as an organization are forced to examine our developed policies should make us more aware and better equipped to act on our statements.

An example of the impact our members can make was seen recently as we came together to write letters and give testimony in opposition to Oregon SB181. This bill could impact our property tax status and give our hardworking Secretaries yet another government filing to handle. I am still not sure if this bill will actually pass the legislature. The chair of the House committee seems to think it would not affect us, but it could be the first step that would ultimately include non-profits such as the Grange. Many of our members wrote letters to the committee and several came to the Capitol to testify about the damage this bill could do to a community organization.

Lobbyist

One bright spot in all this was that the State Grange has contracted with Clarkes Grange member, Craig Loughridge, to represent us as our lobbyist. Craig has been instrumental in rallying Grangers to oppose SB181. He has been a great addition to our State Grange legislative team. Craig and his family have been members of Clarkes Grange in Clackamas County for just over seven years. He and I met during the Ag Luncheon at the State Capitol this past April. Craig works in the Salem area and is available to help us on the same part-time basis we had with our former lobbyist Jim Welsh.

Craig has already set up an email list of members and sends weekly updates called The Capitol Granger. If you are not receiving this and would like to, please let the office know and we will get your email added. We are working hard to keep this list current in the hopes that we can make more use of this electronic means of communication. Craig is planning to attend a couple of days of our convention so please introduce yourself and welcome him to his new position as our lobbyist!

150th Anniversary

As we get closer to the actual anniversary date of December 4th, 2017, Granges need to start planning celebrations. Invite the community into your hall to help you celebrate our 150 years of service, support and partnerships with 169 communities across Oregon. Our State Grange is still in the planning stages for our party, but save the date on your calendar. Our celebration is scheduled for the actual date of December 4th, and your invitation will be in the mail this fall!

In the meantime District #2 is working hard to make this year's convention a great experience for everyone attending. Maybe our beautiful days will last, and we will be blessed at the coast with fun in the sun. But no matter the weather, Grangers always have a good time together! See you in Florence!

MISSING

The office copy of the 1910 Oregon State Grange Proceedings is missing pages 67 & 68. It appears they were cut out. Please look through your Grange's cupboards and closets as well as your personal library for these proceedings. They may be in an individual year book or in a multi-year bound book. Please let the Grange office know if you find and we will make arrangements to borrow and scan.

The entries only need to have items for any good dog (like me), and they can be store bought or hand made. They will be judged on creativity and you could go home with some cash and a beautiful ribbon! But best of all a shelter Dog could be getting some snacks, a new collar, or maybe some new toys. I hope there are lots of entries this year so that the Dogs in Florence will hear all about the Oregon State Grange, and hope that they will be adopted by Grangers!

As you read this article I hope that you've put the finishing touches on your stories and poems and have those photos ready to display. Don't forget about the posters from past events. I'm sure the GWA can't wait to sample all the cookies.

Don't forget to bring your guitars and skits for the talent contest as last year's winner Carmel Valencia has been serenading us at Phoenix Grange for the last six months and is ready to sing again.

As I searched through boxes of Grange newspapers that I've kept over the last twenty plus years I found folders of papers that Arlawene Silvester had entrusted to me for safe keeping. I read through several columns from the 1983 and 1995 papers and found that from March forward we are reaching out to all members to get in touch with your creative sides. Enter as many contests as you can as I'm excited to

Let's not forget about GrangeUp and building membership. We need all the help we can get to carry on our good works. I would love to taste someone else's cooking at our monthly potlucks.

Celebrate Flag Day on June 14 with a tribute and learn when and why the celebration began. See all of you in a couple weeks.

Thank You

Dick and Annette Wanker of Redland Grange want to thank the members of the Oregon State Grange Foundation for the wonderful surprise they were sent from the Fraternal Concerns Fund. It was a tough winter between flooding and fire but they are close to complete recovery. The gift gave them much comfort and security.

Officer Stations Available

Since Mohawk-McKenzie Grange #747, Lane County moved into the old Willakenzie Grange Hall they have two sets of officer stations and are now ready to part with one of them. The stations are in decent shape in a light colored wood. There are individual stations for the Overseer, Lecturer, and Chaplain; an Altar, larger single stations for the Graces and for Secretary-Treasurer, and a Master's station.

If you are interested please contact Mark Noah, 541.726.6106 or email: marknoah00@gmail.com.

Sandlake Grange #546 Changes July Meeting

Sandlake Grange in Tillamook County has voted to change its regular meeting date in July 2017, as a result of the 4th of July holiday. The regular meeting will be held at 7pm on Tuesday, July 11, 2017 with potluck snacks preceding the business meeting at 6:30pm.

Thank You

John Knox, Forest Grove Grange wishes to thank everyone for their prayers and the cards he received after tangling with a bull in late February. Following surgery on March 9th to have his tibia screwed back together he is now on the mend and back up and about.

The bull may have won that battle but John later won the war as the bull became mincemeat.

Eagle Creek Grange #297 Holds Easter Egg Hunt

Each year it "gets bigger and bigger" said Barbara Brockway, Eagle Creek Grange #297 GWA Chairman. This year there were seventy-seven children at the event in this small, rural community in Clackamas County. That was up from sixty each of the last two years.

The Grange filled seven hundred plastic eggs with candy and roped an area off into five sections for the different age groups. If a child came without a basket, there were some available. When the whistle blew, off the children went.

Chaplain ~ Oregon State Grange

It's hard to believe that another year has passed and we will soon be meeting again at the Oregon State Grange Convention. I hope as many of you that are able make the trip to Florence to renew old friendships and make new ones.

I hope also that you come to the Memorial Service where we honor those Subordinate and Pomona Grange Masters and the second delegate (most often the spouse) who served as delegates, Directors or State Officers who have passed in this last year. Secretaries have been notified to submit those names but I am asking long-time members to aid their Secretary by remembering members whom he or she might not be aware. We would really like to honor those members and would appreciate any help you may give. You can call me directly if you have any information.

Our time at the State Convention should be cherished time for all of us. There are many of us that have developed deep friendships with people all over the state but only get to see them once or twice a year. Friends are not only necessary to our existence but are commanded in the Bible. In Ephesians 4:9-12 we read "Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their toil. For if they fall, one will lift up his fellow. But woe to him who is alone when he falls and has not another to lift him up! Again, if two lie together, they keep warm, but how can one keep warm alone? And though man might prevail against one who is alone, two will withstand him – a threefold cord is not quickly broken." And in John 15:12, 13 Jesus states the following: "This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lay down his life for his friends."

Sometimes there are tense discussion over resolutions, but remember always that we are brothers and sisters and always friends. Friends when we arrive and better friends when we leave. So please come to the convention and enjoy the many friendships. See you at the beach!!

Warren and Beaver Homes Granges Help Sponsor Egg Hunt

The Megga Egg Hunt was held at the Columbia County Fairgrounds on April 15th. This mini fair event was free and sponsored by several local businesses including Warren and Beaver Homes Granges. This year's event had 1,600 kids looking for candy eggs in the wet fields and 1500 parents following along.

After the hunt the kids enjoyed horse rides by the Rodeo court, face painting, 4-H small animal petting area, 4-H dog training demo, 4-H archery display and a coloring contest. Thirty-five prizes for finding a golden coin were given in each age group by Warren Grange. Free snow cones were donated by Beaver Homes Grange and free popcorn donated by Warren Grange.

County Commissioner Henry Heimuller, a Warren Grange member, and Representative Brad Witt, were the greeters at the gates for the event goers. Senator Betsy Johnson, a Warren Grange member, was the volunteer announcer who started the hunt and helped some kids find several lost parents in the crowd.

OSG Community Service Director, Eva Frost, was one of the volunteer coordinators for the Megga Egg Hunt.

Molalla Honors Members

On March 22, 2017 Molalla Grange #310 in Clackamas County had the privilege of presenting several membership awards to their members recognizing their long time commitment to the Grange. The Grange asked Clackamas County Pomona #1 Master Ed Luttrell to do the presenting as he does a super job.

Receiving their Silver Star Certificate representing twenty-five years of membership were Gerry and Bonnie George and Kevin Kindall. Tom Daniels received his Golden Sheaf Certificate for his fifty years of membership. And Lucia Schuebel received her 80 year acknowledgment letter from the National Grange. Additionally, arrangements had been made for Guy Fine, a member of Liberty Grange #613 in Wallowa County but who resides in Molalla, to received his Golden Sheaf Certificate that night.

Columbia Grange #867 Celebrates 80 Years Since Chartered

An open house was held by Columbia Grange #867, Umatilla County on April 29th. The celebration honored past members of Columbia Grange and several community service organizations.

Special Guest of Honor was Margaret Thorpe, who received a letter from the National Master celebrating her 85 years of Grange membership. She first joined Greenfield Grange in Boardman in 1932 at the age of sixteen.

The event started with a baked potato bar; followed by an Ice Cream Social, which had been purchased at last year's OSG convention from the GROW Club.

State Session

By now, you should have received the State Session packet for your Grange. This packet includes the Pre-Registration form, Credentials for delegates, Committee preference form, Memorial form, meal order form and hotel information for Florence. Please double check the due dates on this information and submit it to the Oregon State Grange office. If you haven't received this packet, please check online at www.orgrange.org/state-grange-information/ or contact the Oregon State Grange office at (503) 316-0106 ASAP.

The Memorial form is to be completed if your Grange had a deceased member who served as a State Officer, State Committee Director, a Delegate to State Session or State Youth or Junior officer and has died since our last State Session. This form was due by May 15th but please send in anyway. This is very important for the Memorial Service on Monday June 26. The names of these people will be read aloud at the service. We want to be as up-to-date up-to-date as possible with this information.

Be sure to review the instruction and due dates on all the state session forms carefully. If in doubt call the State Grange office.

Secretary's and Treasurer's State Convention Conference

I hope you plan on attending the Secretary's and Treasurer's Conference; Monday morning, June 24th, 7:30-8:45am. Paula Herrick, OSG Treasurer and I will review and clarify areas that have challenged and concerned Grange Secretaries and Treasurers. I hope it will be a good exchange of information and ideas for everyone. One more tool for you.

Be sure to check another tool over, this month's Grange Bulletin, for all the State Convention events and special days. Plan to attend! Go prepared to learn, socialize, exchange ideas and to have FUN with your fellow Grangers.

See you at State Convention in Florence.

Clarkes Grange #261 Presents Membership Awards Twice

On April 8th Clarkes Grange, Clackamas County presented membership seals to five members. Receiving seals for 55 year of membership were Ken Naylor, Jim Dumolt, Annie Dickson and Scottie Dickson. Receiving a 65-year seal was Shirley Naylor.

Then on May 3rd Clarkes Master

Christy Dumolt visited Pheasant Pointe Assisted Living Residence in Molalla to present Edith Wettlaufer Littleton with her 55, 60, 65 and 70 year seals recognizing her many years of Grange membership. Joining them was Edith's daughter, Suzan Sether, who received her Golden Sheaf Certificate and pin for her fifty years of membership.

The Agricultural Report

Jay Sexton
agdir@orgrange.org
OSG Agriculture Director

I hope to see many of you at the Oregon State Grange Convention in Florence, June 24 – 29. The Agriculture Committee will have several activities for your education and entertainment. On Saturday, June 24th at 9 AM we will have the Ag Tour. This year, we will be carpooling for the tour, because renting a bus in Florence was expensive, and because our tour is very short in travel distance—less than five miles total travel. We will visit with the manager of the Florence Farmers Market and see the Market, hear about commercial ocean fishing, and see ice cream being made by hand in a family run shop.

Please reserve your spot on the tour by emailing agdir@orgrange.org or calling my home 541-929-5452. When you sign up please let me know if you can drive and if you have an extra seat or two. The trip will be limited to 40 people and we will return to the Events Center about noon for a free lunch.

The Ag Committee will also host two conferences. On Monday, June 26th, at 7:30 am, Elise Higley from Our Family Farms will talk about her organization which advocates for family farms in Southern Oregon. On Thursday, June 29th we will hear from Genie Harden of Spencer Creek Grange about How to Start a Farmers Market.

In the last issue of the Bulletin I mentioned the Oregon Agricultural Heritage Program, created by a coalition of statewide agriculture and conservation organizations with a common desire to support agriculture and natural resource values in Oregon. This program will start with the passage of a bill in the legislature: HB 3249. At this writing, in early May, HB 3249 is in the House Ways and Means Committee and could still gain passage.

During the last couple of months the District Chairs of the Ag Committee have participated in the GrangeUp effort to visit every Grange in Oregon and promote efforts to boost membership and celebrate the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Grange. We also helped out at Ag Fest at the State Fairgrounds in Salem, helping thousands of kids and families plant marigolds, peppers, or tomatoes, to take home. This year's Grange volunteer force at Ag Fest was a big fun group, and I felt that together we made it so no small group had to shoulder too much work over the two days. Thank you volunteers!

See you in Florence!

Oregon State Grange AG Tour Saturday, June 24

Leave the Florence Event Center at 9am.
Return at 12 noon for a free lunch then attend the conferral of the first four degrees.

The Ag Tour in Florence this year will visit three diverse locations:

- ◆ The Florence Farmers Market, where we hear from the manager about the mechanics of the market
- ◆ The Bayfront, where we hear from someone about commercial ocean fishing – a fishing vessel may be there.
- ◆ Tour of BJ Ice Cream Parlor manufactory, where we see handmade ice cream made – this family has had ice cream makers for five generations.

Must reserve your spot by June 15
Limited to 40 people on a first come basis

Since lunch will be provided please let Jay know of any special meal needs.

Ag Fest Sets Attendance Record

It was a record-breaking crowd of 21,964 that attended the 30th annual Ag Fest April 29-30 at the Oregon State Fairgrounds. A good share of them found their way to the Oregon State Grange activity center in Ag Country where visitors had the chance to plant marigold, pepper or tomato seedlings into peat pots to take home to their own gardens or patios. They also had the opportunity to learn about the Grange with an emphasis on Junior Grangers and opportunities for families.

A special Thank you to Vernon and Paula Herrick, Herrick Farms, for growing the more than 5400 seedlings used for this event.

A steady stream of families stopped by the Grange activity center during Ag Fest and many took home information about the Grange.

Rockford Grange Hosted The Big One 2.0 Community Meeting

April 20th Rockford Grange coordinating with Hood River County Emergency Operations and First Responders, hosted The Big One 2.0 (Cascadian subduction earthquake). This community-wide event included keynote speaker Dr. Althea Rizzo, geological hazards program coordinator for Oregon Office of Emergency Management.

Dr. Rizzo opened her talk by asking everyone in the room to introduce themselves to each other as these will be the people you need to plan to depend on when disaster strikes. She said there's a 37 percent chance of this huge earthquake happening in the next 50 years. Scientist can't predict exactly when, but we, as citizens can determine whether we're prepared or not.

Bringing in 200-plus community members, who participated in hands-on demonstrations, informational booths, tactical gear exhibits didn't only focus on earthquake preparedness, but any kind of disaster emergency.

This winter was a good example of why citizens need to be prepared. The Gorge experienced the closure of I-84 several times, causing fuel and food shortages, to name just a couple issues. They also experienced an oil train exploding last summer causing a major traffic crisis in both Oregon and Washington for 24 hours. Some commuters were stuck in their cars in sweltering temperatures for eight hours. Rockford Grange is making plans to be a disaster center for their neighbors in the event of a disaster.

Clarkes Grange Raises Funds for Cuddle Cot

Clarkes Grange #261 in Clackamas County has spent the spring raising funds for a Cuddle Cot to be placed at Providence Willamette Falls Hospital in Oregon City. One of their newer members brought the need to their attention. "We were unaware of what a Cuddle Cot even was" said Annette Naylor. It is a cooling device that is used to keep a stillborn baby's body at a regulated temperature. The baby is then able to be kept in the hospital room for an extended period of time so that families may dress, take pictures and say their goodbyes.

Cuddle Cots are manufactured in England and cost approximately $3000.

Fundraising was kicked-off in February with their 30th annual Sweetheart Breakfast with 100% of the donations for breakfast going to purchasing the Cuddle Cot for the hospital. That amounted to $1200; a nice start to the project.

Members of Clarkes Grange also visited other Clackamas County Granges that were in the vicinity and whose members would likely make use of, the Oregon City hospital, asking for their help. Seven Clackamas County Granges, Redland, Springwater, Molalla, Maplewood, Abernathy, Harding and Warner, donated between $100 and $500 dollars each as well as individual members, the Wankers from Redland and the Heilmans from Abernathy. They received donations from some other community organizations and members as well.

With their goal in sight and only needing $500 more, the Grange held a Spring Mix Bazaar on May 6th. Between vendors fees, raffle ticket sales and the kitchen they hoped to

OSG Community Service and Involvement Director

The past several months, many of us have been visiting Granges and delivering a box of goodies to engage each Grange with ideas on the new "GrangeUp '17" membership program. I visited 14 Granges and have returned to 3 for their special events. I have learned so much about each Grange and what they are doing within the community. Visiting a Grange gives a personal touch and can develop lasting friendships. It is apparent that Grangers take pride in what they are doing in the community.

HURRY!! Send me your 2016 Annual Community Service Report. The deadline is June 1. I know that many Granges are busy volunteering in their communities. The only way the State Grange knows what you are doing is if you fill out the report form, which you can download from the State Grange website. Contact me if you have any questions about filling out your Annual Community Service Report.

The Oregon State Grange receives money ($250) from the National Grange, IF 25% of Granges send in a report. We use this money to fund the prizes awarded for Community Service Yearbooks. So HURRY and send in your Annual Report!

The Volunteer Log form, which is also on the State Grange website, can be used to log member's volunteer hours each month during your meeting. These forms are your backup information and should not reach the objective. The results of the Bazaar were amazing with $1481.50 raised, exceeding their goal by almost $1000.

After getting the cot, all remaining funds donated will be split among a couple other people raising money be included or attached to the report you mail. Contact me if you have any questions. Please remember to focus on serving your community.

The Community Service Yearbook for 2016 must be entered for judging at the State Grange Convention by noon on Sunday June 25. Or you may mail your book to me by June 1. All yearbooks will be judged at the convention and certificates will be awarded to all entrants. The first place winner will be sent to National Grange in November. Refer to the OSG Awards, Contests and Scholarships booklet for more information.

Volunteer of the Year recognizes a member who is a dedicated volunteer in your community. Nominations must be sent to me by June 1. Refer to the OSG Awards, Contests and Scholarships booklet for more information. The winner will be announced and presented with a certificate and award at the State Grange Convention.

Firefighter, Law Enforcement Officer and Teacher of the Year Awards is National Grange program and needs to be sent to me by June 1. Refer to the OSG Awards, Contests and Scholarships booklet for more information. The winner will be announced and presented with a certificate at the State Grange Convention and then forwarded to the National Grange.

Thanks for your service in your community.

Clarkes Grange is hoping to have the Cuddle Cot in Willamette Fall Hospital by the end of June.

2017 Host Granges

Each year the Granges in the Oregon State Grange Convention host district are asked to provide a current picture of their hall and a brief summary of their activities and items unique to them. Those that respond get a write-up; those that don't, get just the basic information listed and a picture if there is one in the OSGB files.

District 2 is made up of the Granges in Benton, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Marion and Polk counties. This issue contains information on Marion County and a few Lane County Granges. The rest appeared in the April/May issue of the Bulletin.

Enjoy learning a little about the host Granges and "Sea and be Seen in '17" in Florence, Oregon.

Granges Take Advantage of State Grange Sign Reimbursement Program

Kellogg Grange Gets New Reader Board Sign

On November 2, 2016 the membership of Kellogg Grange #811 in Douglas County authorized the purchase of a sign through the State Grange Sign Reimbursement Program. On March 25, 2017 several of the members installed the sign in a place where it is visible to those traveling both from the east and west on OR Hwy 138. Kellogg Grangers give a big "thank you" to members Glen Gordon, King Phelps, Bill Calvert and Tracey for their work on the sign and to Donna Kobbe and Lisa Clemo for organizing a luncheon to feed the workers.

The members of the Kellogg Grange would like to thank the Executive Committee and the late Marcel Mandel for making the funds available for Granges to improve their signage. They are very excited about the sign and expect it to greatly improve their ability to communicate with the community. They have already received a large quantity of feedback from community members planning to attend their Annual Spring Cake Walk because of the sign.

May 31, 2017 was the deadline to apply for reimbursement for upgrading of your Grange Hall sign. The Executive Committee funded one half of a signage project up to the total of $350.00 per Grange. Work must have been completed and the funds applied for by the deadline. About ten Granges in Oregon took advantage of the program. If you did and you have not sent a photo(s) and story in for the Bulletin, please do so for a future issue.

Santiam Valley Installs Vandal Proof Sign

The Santiam Valley Grange #828 purchased a new double sided lighted reader board custom sign. The sign is lit by LED lighting, has vandal proof covering on both sides and uses eight inch lettering.

They had problems with people rearranging the letters on their previous sign. The new sign has locking, sliding plex-a-glass panels so the public cannot get to the letters. With the help of Grange members and members of the community, they poured a new cement slab for the sign to be placed on. The sign was installed on May 17, 2017.

Deaf Awareness and Family Health

Peggy Jillson
 pjill@comcast.net

OSG Deaf Awareness ~ Family Health Director

Save the Grange Potluck, Please!

My niece's husband recently learned that an undiagnosed allergy to dairy protein may be the source of health problems that have plagued him for years. My sister-in-law – who is an excellent and creative cook — has been hard at work modifying her family dinners to eliminate not just milk but butter, margarine (Yes, it usually contains dairy ingredients), whey products, and cheese. Of course it's not easy, but her goal is that everyone who comes to the table can share the same meal. Sometimes that means there are two kinds of soup or pie. Sauces and dressings are not added before serving. Often there are two options for potatoes. Our favorite family vegetable seems to be the natural partner of dairy foods, but coconut milk and olive oil have their uses.

There are foods we all choose or avoid because of health issues, weight control, religious beliefs, and even politics. A wise cook knows efforts to understand and incorporate a special diet also honor the bonds of family and friendship. How do we navigate these considerations with our potluck food?

Think about successful gatherings, as opposed to successful meals. Family health includes good conversation and strong friendships. Potluck should be a low pressure option for busy people, not a competition for the best casserole or the most expensive ingredients. Bring something you like, eat what you can, and learn more about what your Grange friends enjoy. Next time you'll have a better idea of what might tempt them and spark your interest in cooking as well. But it's more important that everyone take the time to sit down and share the day's events, even with their glass of water or their meal replacement shake.

As for the food, simplicity may be the best approach. Be judicious about added cheese, meat, breadcrumbs, or seasoning mixes. Sometimes they're key to the dish, but other times you can easily forgo added ingredients and make your potluck offering accessible to more people. Provide the recipe or ingredient list if you can; it will be appreciated by those who have reason to be cautious.

Back when you couldn't even go into the main hall until you'd taken your four degrees, new members could spend months relegated to visiting in the kitchen and helping with the dishes during Grange meetings. My more recent experience is that Granges have the most egalitarian workforce of any group I know. Everyone helps out because everyone is also needed in the meeting room.

In my Grange we stopped having potlucks before our meetings when we went to one business meeting per month. I'm inspired by other Granges where potluck night is a completely separate time from the business meeting, often with a speaker and open to other invited guests. All of us need to be aware that the concept of potluck food is a red flag for county environmental health departments. You cannot just invite the public to a potluck, but you can invite a friend. Let's make those invitations be sought out by everyone we know as we carry out GrangeUp '17!

The Multiplying Factor

By Jennifer Moody

HALSEY — Generally speaking, Grace Glenn figures she's a pretty good math student. She might be a little behind right now, she said, but she's mostly on track. But her marks don't reflect what the sophomore describes as near-constant frustration with the individually-paced computer labs that have replaced traditional math classes at Central Linn High School.

Glenn turned her frustration into a persuasive essay for a writing class she's taking through Linn-Benton Community College, titled, "Technology should be used sparingly in math classes." In the paper — for which she received an A, she said — Glenn argued math taught on a computer gives students less interaction and can result in diminished performance.

That essay led her to write a letter to the superintendent and school board urging the math program be revamped. In turn, that letter led to changes in the math program that Glenn and her classmates will see as soon as this fall. "I was really shocked," said Glenn, who learned of the planned changes last Monday at a meeting of the Central Linn School Board. "I actually thought they were going to pooh-pooh my paper. I thought they would toss it."

Instead, Glenn said, Superintendent Brian Gardner invited her to be a part of a student panel to gather more input. At the same time, Gardner and Principal Jon Zwenke met with the math department to talk about options. Last Monday, Gardner told the board the plan this fall will be to add back some more sections of traditional math classes for high school students who work better in those conditions.

Glenn's letter wasn't the entire basis for the decision, but it did provide an opportunity to do some more thorough investigation, Gardner said. "Kids are asking for it, it looks like there's a definite need — we're going to try this," Gardner said.

When he joined the district in 2011, Gardner began working to move Central Linn away from a teacher-centered, seat-time model and instead toward individual learning and demonstrations of proficiency. The move was in line with both Oregon's shift to the more proficiency-based Common Core State Standards and to changes in diploma requirements, which mandated at least three credits of math, Algebra I or higher.

Math teachers at the high school spent a full year breaking down each math standard, putting together individual study plans and assessments, and reorganizing their class schedules into open math labs. In 2014-15, they launched the new system.

Here's how it works right now: Central Linn's high school math teachers run an open lab in their three adjoining classrooms for students of all grade levels. Students use a laptop to work at their own pace on whichever proficiency standard they need to meet.

Once students feel they get the material and they've practiced enough, they take a test on that standard. Credit is awarded if they pass. If necessary, they go back and work some more, then take a new test that measures the same standard.

Pacing guides set the material at roughly a test per week, said Randy Smith, head of the math department, but not every student holds to that schedule. In fact, there are no firm deadlines, which is part of Glenn's frustration.

"We need structure in our world today," she wrote in her letter to the superintendent and board. "With so many things going on that are pressing on our students, such as sports and home lives, we need a system that holds our students accountable and the math program is lacking. "We need to bring back teacher instruction, regular assessing, and add in technology, slowly."

Math teachers agree there's room for improvement in the approach, and they're willing to take what teacher Michelle Mitchell-Foust dubbed a "necessary step sideways" to bring back some teacher-led classes. "We're bringing back a piece of it for those students who struggle with their own time management or responsibility," said Randy Smith, head of the math department.

Glenn has a valid argument, he added, quipping: "A lot of people like to be told what to do." That said, however, none of the three teachers want to see the proficiency-based, open-ended opportunity

Central Grange Gives Gary Force Memorial Money to Scholarship Fund

On Feb. 13th Central Grange #360, Lane County presented the Lane Pomona scholarship fund with a check for $400 at the Pomona Prime Rib Dinner held at Dorena Grange. This represented the money given to Central Grange in memory of past Central and Lane Pomona Master, Gary Force who died on Christmas Day 2012. Brother Force had been a member of Central Grange since 1961 and was Oregon's Outstanding Young Granger in 1966. Each year Lane Pomona Grange gives a $1,000 scholarship to any Lane Pomona Grange member or their child or grandchild who has at least one year of college completed.

Central Grange Secretary Jeannie Hartman (L) and Chaplain Shelly Guilford (R) presented Lane Pomona Master, Ken Schwieger with check for the Pomona Scholarship fund.

vanish. "It's a balance," Smith said. "In spite of the resistance, or reluctance, of some, we still feel students are more successful being independent than they were when they were in a timeline dictated by the teacher. Not all students learn at the same rate and not all come with the same set of skills."

Paul Rowton, who teaches developmental math classes at Linn-Benton Community College as well as math at Central Linn, said Central Linn's approach is much more in line with what both college and employers are seeking: self-directed learners who understand the process of a task and can use it to find creative solutions. "This is the direction everyone is starting to push, the whole problem-solving-led curriculum," he said.

Some data suggest the proficiency approach is working. Central Linn's high school scores on state assessment tests, while still below the state average, rose last year from the previous year (earlier tests used a different system and can't be compared). And some students say they love the open lab, said Mitchell-Foust. "I have never seen students so engaged with math in all my years," she said. "That's really cool."

But Glenn, and several parents who spoke at last Monday's board meeting, said some students simply don't learn well with computer-based instruction, or are able to motivate themselves to meet a nonexistent deadline. "I'd love to see hard deadlines, but it's not real realistic for some of the learning progress that some kids are making," Smith said.

Also, deadlines didn't necessarily mean students learned, Gardner pointed out at Monday's meeting. It just meant they could scrape by. "The old system allowed a lot of kids to get through who weren't proficient," he said.

A hybrid system may not solve every problem, but Gardner and the math teachers said they're hoping it will work better for students who need it.

When classes resume in the fall, high school will offer six traditional class sections in all, which should serve 120 to 140 of the approximately 300 math students. The students in those classes will be chosen based on those the math department feels will benefit most.

It may turn out to be harder than some expect, Smith warned. Students who have been able to learn at their own pace now will be held to being on the same chapter of the same text as their classmates, whether or not they feel they're ready.

Still, Glenn said she plans to ask to be one of them. "I'm a very visual and audible learner," she said. And, she said, she thinks the district made the right call by keeping both approaches. "I think it's a great balance," she said.

OSG Grange Workers Activities Director

Grange Workers Activities is the committee which promotes growth in the Grange by promoting activities and opportunities to connect with our Grange families and well as our own families. Grange for some is our second home where we learn how to cook, sew, craft, garden, decorate, organize events or learn a talent we didn't know we had. Encourage each member to share their skills and knowledge with others as this builds relationships and helps us to feel apart of the activities.

GWA members work hard to keep Grange halls and grounds in tip top shape so summer is a good time of year to enjoy the fruits of your labor. Plan some outside activities for members and nonmembers to enjoy that doesn't involve work but play.

An idea might be have a birthday party outside to celebrate the 150 years of National Grange. This also would be a good time to honor a Grange family.

State Grange Convention is fast approaching and I hope you are planning to attend. There is still time for you to look through the contest booklet and submit an item or two. I'm excited to see what you have made for this year's contests. If you have items for the contests and are not going to be able to come please have a representative from your Grange or your District GWA Chairman bring them. A copy of the entry form is on the OSG website or there is one BELOW. Please be sure to fill it out completely.

Enjoy your summer!!

London Grange Donates Quilt to Local School Scholarship Fund

On May 3rd London Grange #937 in Lane County presented a rooster quilt made by Grange members June Kjelde and Elaine Chapman to the London Elementary school in Cottage Grove. The quilt is being raffled off to help increase funds for the Alumni Scholarships. Former London Elementary School students who are current Cottage Grove High School Seniors will receive scholarships from these proceeds. All scholarships go directly to their college of choice.

Rockford Grange Holds Plant Sale

Rockford Grange, Hood River County, held their annual Plant Sale fundraiser on Blossom Sunday, a yearly event in the Hood River Valley to celebrate the beautiful orchards blossoms. Thirty-one member volunteers grew and sold nearly a thousand vegetable and perennial plants coordinating with the Westside Fire Department's pancake breakfast. Rockford gained several new members at this event and raised some money for the Grange.

Warner Grange Participates In "Words for Thirds"

On April 24th Warner Grange members Terry and Joan Mize, Jim Dale and Don Kingsborough delivered dictionaries to third graders at Caras Elementary School in Oregon City and Jason Lee Elementary in Canby. Both are in the Canby School district.

Don Kingsborough explained to each class about the dictionary and what the students will find in it, as well as a little about the Grange and community service. Then it was time to pass out the dictionaries.

Oregon State Grange Junior Directors

The National Junior Grange Director has developed a 12 Month Meeting Guide to help Junior leaders plan their year. Each issue of the Bulletin we will be printing the next two months of suggestions to help with your planning. Each month's suggestions include badges to work on, a low-cost craft you could do, a suggested project or Grange related activity and many other ideas.

July

The month of July is surely a time to celebrate America's Birthday!

Badge: TUA 17 - Historical Figure Have each Junior come dressed to celebrate America in their favorite historical figure's costume (Abe Lincoln, George Washington, Susan B Anthony, etc) and bring a book about their character to share with the group!

Hands-on: Have a birthday party to celebrate America. Create a picture collage about famous people in American History.

Craft: <http://www.kinderart.com/seasons/candlejars.shtml> or other patriotic craft.

Grange: How has Grange been influential in American history? Collaborate as a group and discover ways the Grange has made a difference in your state or in your nation.

August

The month of August means it is time to get ready for school and it is time to build our thoughts and make our minds ready to learn!

Badge: TUA18 - Food for Thought Have each Junior bring a vegetable or fruit to share with one another. Have them discuss how each of their produce grow and what part of the country it may grow better in.

Hands-on: Share fruits and veggies, examine their texture, smell, size, etc.

Craft: Pop Art Ice Cream Paintings <http://www.kinderart.com/arthistory/poparticecream.shtml>

Grange: Growth, let us give some "food for thought" on growth. How can we grow our JounirGrange? How can we get our new friends at school interested in JR Grange? Practice the opening and closing procedures of the Grange.

2017 OSO Convention - Junior Session

ALL CHILDREN ARE THE RESPONSIBILITY OF PARENTS/GUARDIANS WHEN JUNIOR GRANGE IS NOT IN SESSION.

- It is requested that Juniors not bring electronic devices to the Junior Room at convention to minimize distractions. This includes phones and cameras.
- They also DO NOT need to have money with them as we will provide them with snacks/refreshments. If the Junior has a special dietary need let us know and we will accommodate.
- On Field Trip days it will be appropriate for them to have some spending cash as their guardian deems correct and proportional for the day's activities.

Legislative Update

Mark Noah
marknoah00@gmail.com

OSG Legislative Director

Several bills in the 2017 Oregon Legislature have been of interest to the Grange including S.B. 181 which generated considerable activity. It would require all non-profits to file for property tax exemption every year, with stiff penalties for failure to file including loss of tax-free status for 5 years prior to the infraction, meaning an organization that did not file next year might be assessed property taxes for that year and for 5 years previous. The bill passed the Senate and was referred to the House Revenue committee. Several Grangers including District 4 Legislative Chairman Don Kingsborough and OSG Lobbyist Craig Loughridge emailed the Revenue committee members, and Craig along with Ed Luttrell attended the bill's public hearing and offered testimony. Rep. Phil Barnhardt says he believes this bill would not impact Granges, only 501c3 charitable non-profits, but we're still concerned and will follow the issue.

Our Legislative conference at State Session will be on Thursday morning June 29 at 7:30am. Craig Loughridge, our new Lobbyist, will be the featured speaker. We will also discuss how to make your resolutions have impact, what happens to resolutions after State session but before Legislative session, and developing effective email networks.

The US Senate Should Pass Regulatory Reform

By Burton Eller, National Grange Legislative Director

The House of Representatives passed its own regulatory reform bill earlier this year. Now, a major bipartisan push is on to pass regulatory reform in the Senate, spearheaded by Senators Rob Portman (R-Ohio) and Heidi Heitkamp (D-N.D.) with their bill S. 951, The Regulatory Accountability Act of 2017. This measure would require a cost-benefit analysis of proposed regulations, invite early public participation on major rules and require federal agencies to disclose the information they rely upon.

It will promote transparency, accountability, and common sense in the regulatory process. Here's how:

- Federal agencies must balance costs and benefits when developing new rules or changing existing regulations.
- Agencies will still produce new rules but will do so in a more transparent manner.
- For the most expensive rules, agencies must consider a reasonable number of alternatives and choose the most cost-effective one unless there is a compelling reason otherwise.
- The Act is not expected to significantly impact the length of time for rulemaking. Agencies are already required to analyze costs and benefits, consider reasonable alternatives, and engage the public during rulemaking.
- Enactment of the legislation would ensure the current President and future administrations work under these overarching bipartisan practices that drive the regulatory process.
- The Regulatory Accountability Act will allow courts to make sure agencies follow the law regarding the law's procedural requirements.

Boring-Damascus Holds Town Hall

State Representatives Bill Kennemer and Janelle Bynum participated in a Town Hall meeting sponsored by Boring-Damascus Grange #260 in Clackamas County on May 3rd.

As expected the hot topic was SB 181 which had passed the Senate and was now in the House Committee on Revenue.

Governmental Affairs

Craig Loughridge
govaffairs@orgrange.org

Asst. Director ~ Oregon State Grange

I have been very pleased to become your lobbyist this spring. My official title is Assistant Director for Governmental Affairs, largely owing to the multifaceted role I have been asked to play in helping develop processes to engage legislators, government agencies and Grange members. I look forward to working with everyone, especially fellow Grange members, on issues important to our Grange and our state.

The most timely way for us to stay in touch will be through our new email newsletter, The Capitol Granger. If you haven't yet received a copy, please email or call me so I can add you to the list to receive it as soon as it comes out. Archived copies will be on the Oregon State Grange website, www.orgrange.org/Legislative/.

By the time you read this bulletin, the fate of Senate Bill 181 may already have been sealed. Grangers from around Oregon answered the call in May to oppose this bill. Some Grangers emailed. Some sent petitions. Others spoke personally with legislators. All were important in the effort to stall or stop what otherwise would unreasonably increase the paperwork burden on charities across Oregon and threaten their property tax exemptions.

A proponent of the bill in a May 9 hearing before the House Revenue Committee acknowledged that the plan might be broadened to include fraternal organizations like the Grange and other kinds of nonprofits. These organizations already face ever-increasing demands to fill community needs. Every new dollar they must spend in tax is one less dollar to spend on their charitable missions.

Please contact me if you'd like more information about this or other concerns. My email address is govaffairs@orgrange.org. My direct phone number is 503-349-6892.

On May 9th Ed Luttrell, Master of Clackamas County Pomona Grange (far right at table) and next to him Craig Loughridge, Assistant Director, Governmental Affairs for the Oregon State Grange testified in front of the Oregon House Committee on Revenue on behalf of Granges in Oregon in opposition to SB 181.

Grange Testifies Against SB 181

Grangers from around Oregon flooded the House Revenue Committee with petitions, emails and personal appearances to oppose Senate Bill 181A. The bill requires nonprofit charities to start filing annual returns in order to keep their property tax exemptions. A charity that failed to file, or that made a mistake on its return, would lose its exemption and have to pay five years' back taxes.

Rep. Bill Kennemer (Oregon City), who met with Grangers at Boring-Damascus Grange on May 3, told the revenue committee on Tuesday that the bill doesn't apply to the Oregon State Grange, which gain their exemption from a different law than the one being amended by this bill.

Craig Loughridge, OSG Assistant Director for Governmental Affairs, told the committee that the Grange continues to have concerns, even if the bill exempts the Grange. He said "many Granges are registered as public benefit corporations, just as are the public charities this bill goes after."

Brother. Luttrell noted that the Oregon State Grange Foundation is a charity covered by the bill.

Kellogg Welcomes New Members

On April 5th Kellogg Grange #811 in Douglas County held the Welcoming Ceremony for new members Mark and Donna Deemer. Master King Phelps along with the help of the other members performed the Welcoming Ceremony to welcome them into the Grange. Congratulations Kellogg and welcome to the Deemers.

Springwater Grange Adds a Family

On April 24th Springwater Grange #263 in Clackamas County welcomed the new members as a part of a family membership. Joining were Nike, Kara and Kendra Guttridge. Nike's husband and father of Kara and Kendra is Tim Guttridge, a life member of Springwater Grange, who started his Grange career as a Junior member. The family had been living out of state for many years and just recently returned to Oregon. Both girls are involved in FFA and Kara place 4th at this year's State FFA Public Speaking contest. Springwater Grange is pleased to add more of the Guttridge family to their Grange.

Canby City Council Proclaims Grange Month

Warner Grange #117 in Clackamas County, visited Canby City Council on April 5th. Tim Dale, son of Warner members Jim and Eileen Dale is Council President. Mayor Hodson read a proclamation proclaiming April 2017 as National Grange Month in Canby. He then presented the proclamation to Warner Master, Terry Mize.

OSG Membership Directors

Hello Grangers!

Looking forward to SEAing all of you at the Oregon State Grange Convention by the SEA in Florence, Oregon!

Our State Grange Membership Committee met to finalize plans for the State Grange. Here are a few of the highlights that will be happening.....

The Membership Luncheon will take place at noon on Monday with lasagna as the main dish. YUM!!

The theme for our luncheon is "Membership----A Sea of Possibilities." The four top Granges with the highest percentage gain will be recognized as well as other awards. Awesome doorprizes will again be given out along with the District Membership Baskets (which is a crowd favorite).

The Membership Conference will be on Wednesday morning from 7:30am to 8:30am. The topic being covered is: "How to Attract Youth/Young Adults Using Social Media". You don't want to miss this!! Great doorprizes will also be given out at the end of the conference. Plan to attend so you can take back new ideas to help GROW your Grange!!

The Membership Table will have some new shirts available to purchase. A grey polo shirt with pockets along with the Grange 150th Anniversary Infinity Design on them is one item. A new ladies v-neck tee with aprons to match are fun new items as well. Wearing Grange apparel as you are out in the public is a great conversation starter as well as an advertisement for the Grange. Remaining T-shirts and aprons from last session will also be available to purchase.

Our committee is looking forward to celebrating "GrangeUp '17 Engage. Connect. Celebrate" during the convention on Monday evening!!

We want to say a special thank you to every Granger and Grange that purchased the Grange Calendars. The money raised is divided between the Lecturer's Department and the Membership Committee. It was a very successful fundraiser! It will definitely help send our Oregon State Grange Talent Winner(s) to National Grange in November as well as help to cover the cost of printing the calendars. Thank you all again!!

SEA everyone Tsun!!! Get it??

Silverton Celebrates Grange Month

Silverton Grange #748, Marion County, celebrated Grange Month with a popular community event where participants learned about the Grange, membership increased and they furthered the mission of the Grange for community education and elevation.

Hundreds of local folks stopped by to swap seeds, get ideas for harvest preservation, learn about herbal bath and body care, pick up free local heirloom seed catalogs and free seed packets donated by the local food share organization, and receive gardening advice. The Grange's annual Seedy Saturday hosted Master Gardeners and Preservers, local farmers and orchardists for advice and plant starts, signups via the local food share gleaning organization to connect people with local farmers' surplus field harvest, local brew club staffed by member/brewer Gus Frederick for fermenting tips, and member/herbalist Randi Embree for body healthy advice and products made from local herbs.

Kids got to take home their own planted sunflower seed to care for. The event also kicked off the Grange's opening of their 12-bed community garden to community neighbors seeking a little plot to sow and grow, learn gardening tips and work together for garden aesthetics and productivity using sustainable, water-conserving techniques. Collected canned food and funds at the event were donated to support the city area food pantry.

Selective Service System

Recently I was contacted by Michael R. Kalberg Command Sergeant Major, USA (Ret.) State Selective Service Director with a request to assist in locating persons interested in volunteering to serve on local draft boards across the state of Oregon. After obtaining approval of the OSG Master I agreed to provide information via our OSG Bulletin about the need for volunteers. SSS volunteers are the people who review the eligibility status of citizens prior to military service.

Eligibility for local draft board service is straightforward: an applicant must be at least 18 years of age and be registered with the selective service, if required; reside in the county where the draft board has jurisdiction; be willing to devote sufficient time to board duties and to apply selective service laws/regulations fairly and uniformly. An applicant may not be an active or retired (receiving a pension) member of the armed services or the reserve components; and cannot work in a law enforcement occupation (police/judiciary). Service on a local draft involves a very modest time commitment-no required meetings and not more than eight hours each year to complete on-line training requirements.

Mr. Kalberg recently reviewed their board vacancy roster. The most critical vacancies are in Lane, Coos and Jackson counties. Lane County (4), Coos and Jackson Counties (2 each). Other county board vacancies include Multnomah (2), Hood River, Columbia, Tillamook, Washington (2), Polk, Benton, Linn, Marion, Curry, Josephine, Lake, Morrow, Sherman, Harney, Jefferson, Baker and Union.

Those interested in serving can go to the Selective Service System website, www.sss.gov. That site outlines what board service requires and includes an application form.

There is still much going on legislatively and we need to remain constantly vigilant. Remember an email to your legislator is what they prefer, but the good old snail mail or phone call still works, though sometimes timeliness is of the essence and the latter two are not as handy as an email.

This year the Veterans committee will be doing our part of the program at the State Grange Convention a little different. Instead of a conference we will have displays in various places around the building.

Hope to see many of you at state Convention in Florence.

Riversdale Grange Organizes Grange Month Activity

Riversdale Grange #731 in Douglas County, in cooperation with Roseburg Coastal Farm and Ranch, sponsored a Grange Garden Zone event. The event on April 23, 2017, was held in conjunction with National Grange Month. Eight Riversdale members, including Junior 1+ members, assisted children planting plants to take home.

Riversdale Granger helps a young lady pot her plant.

The children participated in planting nearly 200 marigolds and tomatoes during the two hours of the Grange Garden Zone. The planting took place at the front entrance to the new Roseburg Coastal Farm and Ranch store. During the planting, Riversdale members were available to discuss local Grange activities and possible membership.

Kevin Gregory, the store manager, commented at the end of the day that this was a "really positive activity and we need to make sure this happens again next year". Riversdale Grange is planning for an even larger crowd next year.

California Invites Grangers To Western Regional Leadership Conference

The California State Grange is inviting all Grangers to the 2017 Grange Western Regional Conference. The conference, for both Grange leaders and youth, will be held August 4-6 at the Knott's Berry Farm Hotel in Buena Park, CA. This year's conference theme is "Sculpting Your Passion Into Action!!"

Attendees will visit the Knott's Berry Farm Amusement park on Friday evening for fun, food, and fellowship.

Saturday will be a whirlwind of workshops including the National Grange Youth Team led by Charlene Espenshade, the National Grange Lecturer Chris Hamp, and leadership facilitators from the California State Grange to round out the program. Don't forget Grange Jeopardy, Public Speaking and Sign-A-Song Contests!!!

Sunday will continue the conference with time to get you on the road or in the air. This is an enthusiastic and interactive conference for all Grange leaders, members, Youth and Junior Grangers. New to the Grange? This is a good time to come and learn more!!

The registration fee of $125 will include entry to the Amusement Park Friday evening - with surprise activities during the night!! Friday dinner will be on your own since there are so many things to choose from in the park. All meals on Saturday and a hearty buffet breakfast on Sunday are included.

Don't forget to order your Conference T-Shirt!!

A fillable Registration form is available on the OSG Website. www.orgrange.org/youth/.

Knott's Berry Farm is located just minutes away from Disneyland, a short distance to the Southern California beaches, the famous Santa Monica Pier, and of course, Hollywood. The event is sure to be fun, eventful, meaningful, and a possible vacation for your whole Grange family.

If you plan on registering for the Western Regional Grange Leaders Conference August 4-6, you will need to make your own room reservations at the Knott's Berry Farm Hotel.

Room rates:

- $139.00 per night. P
- The hotel has indicated availability to extend the conference group rate for one to two extra days if you want to visit other California fun places. Ask the Hotel directly.
- Free Parking to registered guests
- Mention Western Regional Grange Conference to receive the rates.
- Reservations by Phone 8am - 8 pm Pacific 866-752-2444
- The block pricing will disappear after July 6, 2017

California State Grange is ready to show you a great time!!

Grange Youth & Young Adults

Connie Suing
csuing@hotmail.com

OSG Youth Director

I hope you all are ready to enjoy the coast with me this month for our annual Oregon State Grange Convention. We will be meeting at the Florence Events Center and will have five days of Grange fellowship, some work, and a lot of fun.

I want to keep this article short as most of what I would say about Convention will be in the Schedule. There will probably be some additions or corrections, there always are, but we will figure them out together as they come.

I want every Youth to come to Convention with a happy and positive attitude, ready to help. Whether we are serving in a soup kitchen, sorting food for food pantry boxes, or helping a State officer during our business session, I want us to "Be Delighted" to assist anywhere and anyway we can.

We will also have the assorted workshops, early morning Officers practice, working at the Youth table, car wash, and selling more Goodie basket tickets.

Remember to bring your "Keeping the West Warm" items with you. We want to give a good amount to local shelters, who will appreciate the items and put them to good use.

If you haven't taken the six Degrees yet, they will be exemplified on Saturday (1st-4th Degrees) and Sunday (5th and 6th Degrees). Our Degrees are our roots and to have an understanding of them is to have a better understanding of the Grange. I'd like to see a lot of you in the audience, watching and learning more about our wonderful organization.

I hope some of you have considered entering some of the contests in our Awards, Contests and Scholarship booklet. They are fun, fairly easy and give you the opportunity to travel and meet new friends and promote the Grange.

I look forward to seeing you on June 24th.

Remember to ask a Youth to help. I know they would "Be Delighted".

OSG Executive Committee Meeting Minutes - January 21, 2017

The meeting was called to order by State Master Susan Noah at 9:10am. All present except for Secretary Sarah Kingsborough who was missing due to illness. Mark Noah took minutes for the meeting.

Prior meeting minutes October 30, 2016—approved as read.

It was noted that we received thank-you cards from Riley Reynolds for supporting his trip to National Grange; from Rock Wall Grange and Multnomah Grange for approving their grant applications; from Jessie Jo Guttridge for supporting her applications to be National Grange Youth Officer and John Trimble Experience applicant.

Financial Reports

Celia – Current Reports (for further review and discussion after lunch, see below)

Timeline for Audit

- Worthy Master reports they are working on posting to December, should be done by end of this month (Jan). Auditors can expect to start in March. A different staff member from the auditing firm will be in charge this time.
- Worthy Master has had more requests for info from trust fund Granges which adds to year-end accounting activity. Also, uncashed checks are becoming a larger problem for the OSG accounting division, especially Pomona Grange dues checks.

Scott Barker – Barker Wealth Advisors – Current Investment reports

- Scott was here at 10am as scheduled and provided quarterly report information as of 12/31/16, with Schwab analysis of expected financial picture for the coming year.
- OSG YTD portfolio return is 6.4%, based on our relatively conservative investment approach. We also earned approximately 3% dividend income in addition to the portfolio growth. Scott led the committee through a detailed examination of our investment portfolio.
- Worthy Master will schedule time for a presentation by Scott at the 2017 State Grange session in Florence.

Jan's reports

- Grange Loan update (receivables)
- Coburg West Point plans to pay off their loan in the next quarter. Other Granges who are late with loan payments will receive notices.
- Granges who are late with their dues payments were reviewed—several are behind by more than one quarter.

- Contracts on sold properties were reviewed, all are current.
- National Grange will begin paying principal and interest on revised amortization schedule (term was extended by one year).
- Analysis of utility expenses shows some increases to City and for Garbage and Security services, but slight declines in energy expense for both PGE and NW Natural.
- Per resolution at 2016 OSG session, Insurance status for each Subordinate Grange has been collected and was analyzed. We have insurance company name, policy number and expiration date for all Granges. There are only 28 Granges who either have no insurance or did not send in the information required by the resolution.
- EC to look over Visa & Master Card bills. Don Sether reviewed the Worthy Master's credit card expense bills and found no problems.

Membership analysis

- Shows loss of 41 members from Q3 to Q4; also loss of one Grange over that period. There have been several consolidations in year 2016 but also several who became dormant.
- List of Granges with 17 or fewer members seems to be getting longer, and there are several under the legal limit of 13 and in danger of being closed. It is hoped that the new Membership Campaign will help these Granges especially, so that they can remain in Active status.
- Junior program showing gains
- Family membership has dropped, most likely due to children 'aging out' of their plan.

Unfinished Business

- Restraint of Title work – still need to cover the following counties: Baker, Clackamas, Crook, Jackson, Jefferson, Curry, Lake, Malheur, Josephine, Marion, Tillamook, Washington, Wheeler. The Worthy Master believes that one or two needed may need to be retyped, not sure of the problems with the other. All others have been filed and are on record.
- ✓ Worthy Master will work with attorney to develop talking points for Grangers to take to County Clerks and file appropriate documentation for these remaining counties.
- Work was finished on the Willakenzie hall and check has been cut for payment. The final bill was $13,506.46.

- Employee Handbook and Employee Evaluations
 - ✓ Sarah was unable to attend this meeting but reported that a computer failure destroyed any progress she had made on this project. Worthy Master will make sure we have something in place in time for our audit in April.
- National Grange selected the amortization that will extend the loan for one more year (see Jan's Loan Updates section, above)
- GrangeUp '17 is being rolled out tomorrow (January 22) at Irving. All the State Officers, Directors and District Chairs have been requested to be there to select their Granges to visit.
 - ✓ Worthy Master has emailed and notified directors and OSG officers. Weather issues will impact attendance to some degree, unfortunately.
 - ✓ Also at this meeting OSG officers will decide on a practice schedule.
- With the new budget year we are only paying for one State Deputy, Carol Everman. Derrell has agreed to help out for expense money, as has Malcolm Trupp; both will be recognized as Special State Deputies.

New Business

- North Howell Grange is in escrow. Hall has not been cleaned out, but the sale might close by end of this month. There are a few good chairs still at the hall, and there may also be other paraphernalia or regalia, possibly also dishes and etc. Worthy Master and Brother Don will check out the situation this week.
- Never received an answer on the listing of Franklin – what do we want to do? Ed St. Claire has had it for nearly 5 years, apparently the building is really deteriorating.
 - ✓ Listing expired in November '16, what is next step? Motion by Don to ask Buzi Nelson to look at the Franklin property and give us her opinion. Seconded by Roger. Additional discussion...the motion carried.
- Deer Creek Grange – Wants to partner with the Illinois Valley Fire Department to relocate their current Station #5 to the Deer Creek Grange Property. Nancy would have to draw up a lease. Members of Deer Creek were planning on being here at 11:00 am but were unable to attend due to the weather.

- ✓ The committee reviewed documents provided some questions were raised about the well and septic and access. The EC moved to the Worthy Master's office and a conference call was made to Deer Creek. Their members participating in the conference call were Bill Waggoner, Master; Delaine Sherman, Sec; David Anderson, Overseer; Chris Sherman, Steward of Deer Creek and representing the Fire Dept.; Linda Silva, LAS; and Darlene Anderson, Treasurer.
- ✓ Original Fire Dept proposal included a suggestion of $1000 per year payment from the fire dept, the Deer Creek group suggests that be $1200 or $100 per month, and there was no objection from Chris as the FD representative. Question about parking, it needs to be established that the fire dept. has sufficient space. Chris represents the FD and says they have been granted access to the property by the county, so they will not be using the Grange driveway or parking at all. Chris says FD will improve the well house and electric service to it and to the Grange, and upgrade the existing septic system to handle their use. He also says they would return the Grange to pre-existing state if the FD has to withdraw from the project. They are envisioning annual payments on Jan 31 of each year.
- ✓ WM states that OSG will have our attorney submit a lease document based on existing examples, for them to review and approve.
- ✓ WM asks about timeline, Chris says they would like to act asap, hoping to start construction as soon as weather permits. Worthy Master will talk to attorney and try to have initial paperwork for Deer Creek members to review, asap. FD intends to make a full year payment for 2017 when this agreement is approved. Jeff asks, if the Grange fails, what would FD expect? They would continue payment to OSG for duration of dormancy, then expect right of first refusal after that dormancy period.
- ✓ Worthy Master will call attorney Nancy Murray asap

- √ Worthy Master will call attorney Nancy Murray asap to get this rolling but it will probably take a month or more... Chris seems OK with this, as does the rest of the Deer Creek Grange group.
 - √ After the conference call, Jeff moves to allow Illinois Valley RFD to lease a portion of the Deer Creek property as described in the IFRFD proposal. Don seconded the motion. The motion was approved. The Worthy Master will contact attorney Nancy Murray regarding the lease paperwork. Questions to resolve, are they digging a new septic or running their line to the existing septic? Also, will the electric improvements include a separate drop-line and meter for the FD?
 - Matching Grant information – One Grange has recommended that the State Grange consider a follow up Grant that targets membership development to those who have successfully completed the original Matching Grant. There was discussion about this idea, possible funding strategies, etc.
 - A loan of $4,383 was made to Goshen. They would like to pay $100/month as a minimum and if they can do more they will. Don moved to accept the proposed terms, $100/month payments at 5% interest. Seconded by Jeff. Some additional discussion. The motion carried.
 - We need to discuss and develop a “Collections and Preservations Policy” for the Oregon State Grange, and find a volunteer to continue on with the scanning started by Ed Luttrell.
 - √ The committee reviewed the State Grange of Minnesota Collections Policy.
 - The Worthy Master suggests this should remain an agenda item for future EC meetings. There was discussion about what should be saved, where and how to save or store things, & whether there might be grant money available for such preservation projects. Grange materials in private possession ought to be properly labeled so non-members who encounter them will know what to do with them. Records ought to be digitized and stored in searchable format. We should have a policy for the distribution or dispersal of various items that are routinely encountered when a Grange goes dormant.
- Lunch Break
- We returned to Financial
- Celia discussed balance sheets, current reports and individual fund accounts.
 - National wants their payments based on National Database. We will need extra help to get it completely caught up. Either volunteer or part-time help.
 - National Grange is asking for more data than we have collected in the past. Discussed ways of getting help and the cost. Don moved, Roger seconds, to authorize up to $1500 for short-term paid help to get this data entered. Discussion followed. The motion was adopted.
 - Regarding the Moss Adams recommendation to add off site storage for data backup we have taken a first step and have purchased another disc drive. As soon as we make sure that the backup includes all pertinent programs and documents we will purchase a second and swap once a week.
 - Lobbyist – Received a letter from Deschutes Pomona urging us to appoint or hire a lobbyist for the Oregon State Grange as the earliest possible date. Executive Committee discussed varying strategies to accomplish this...there is no budget to hire a lobbyist, even if we had the funds we would not likely get much representation for what we used to pay. Best idea might be to find a volunteer or volunteers who will monitor the session activities and provide updates via the Legislative Director and local committees. Our former lobbyist Jim Welsh offered to meet with Leg Dir Mark Noah to discuss these issues and provide some input. Former lobbyist Ed Luttrell also offered support and advice. Perhaps our various District Directors could monitor, suggest issues and information that ought to be distributed, and initiate this through the OSG Leg Director or State Master.
 - State Master’s conference coming up in February. Worthy Master will be attending, also possibly the first gentleman. This one is in Connecticut, and most of the Western States want this to come to the West Coast.
 - Contract for Clatsop County Fairgrounds for 2018 State Session was presented for review.
 - This location is the choice of the District committee for 2018. It will be similar to Benton County Fairgrounds regarding amenities. Jeff moved that the District 3 2018 steering committee recommendation of Clatsop County Fairgrounds location for the 2018 session be approved. Seconded by Roger, and the motion carried.
 - Policy for virtual attendance at meetings. National Grange formally decided that State Granges should make their own policies regarding virtual attendance. There was extensive discussion and the consensus is that we need to develop such a policy asap. Don moved that we table this issue until our April meeting. Roger seconded the motion. The motion carried.
 - Request from Warren Grange for trust funds. Requesting $2400; Don moved to accept the request, Jeff seconded, and the motion carried.
- Decisions made via email
- Agreement to allow Springwater to withdraw $4,200 from their trust funds for various projects and expenses.
 - Agreement to counter the $50,000 Crowfoot offer with one of $60,000.
 - Agreement to allow Fruitdale Grange to withdraw $1,150 from their trust funds for work on their water system
 - Agreement to loan Goshen up to $4,983 to pay Nancy Murrays bill. Bill turned out to be only $4,383.00
 - Agreement to sell North Howell for the listing price of $210,000.
 - Agreement to allow Keizer to withdraw $862.45 from their trust fund for work on their shed and some clean up around the building.
 - Agreement to counter the $20,000 Crowfoot offer with one of $80,000 (prior to the $50,000 offer) – counter was not accepted.
 - Agreement to allow Sandlake Grange to withdraw $5,617 from their trust funds for a heat pump and some building repairs in the form of exterior wall replacement and roof maintenance.
 - Agreement to allow Keizer to withdraw funds from their trust fund in the amount of $50.25 to pay for changing the locks on the building.
 - Motion by Jeff to affirm these decisions and include them in the minutes of this meeting. Seconded by Roger, and the motion carried.
- Grange Reports
- Chenowith - The Worthy Master has the signed agreement back and just needs to get it notarized and sent in and that property should be off our hands.
 - Crowfoot – The last offer we countered went away, but Buzi thinks we may be getting another one.
 - Fair Oaks – Nothing is happening.
 - Franklin – discussed previously during this meeting
 - Gold Hill – Buzi seems to think that we may be getting an offer on this soon.
 - Goshen – discussed previously during this meeting. Also, some discussion regarding their problem evicting their renter/caretaker. They have only been there a couple months so eviction should not be complicated.
 - Keizer – They have not paid dues for three quarters and have been sent a letter
 - Lookout Mountain/Terrebonne – The former Lookout Mountain hall has been sold for $50,000, netting $45,595.50. The State Grange was sent a check for $44,595.50, leaving the other $1,000 for Terrebonne. They were informed by the State Master to close out their bank account and to send all of it on to Terrebonne including the $1,000 from the sale of property.
 - Milwaukie & Hillsboro – Both Milwaukie and Hillsboro have paid up but the Worthy Master has not been able to schedule a meeting with either one. One was scheduled with Hillsboro but the weather got in the way and it was cancelled, to be rescheduled before the end of January.
 - Mud Springs – Buzi plans on contacting the people who were interested last year to see if they still have any interest. She reported just today that there was a break-in last night (1/21/17) involving some broken windows. The perpetrator was caught in the act. She’ll coordinate with local people to make sure broken windows are boarded up.
 - North Howell – discussed previously at this meeting
 - Salmon River – State Deputy Carol Everman reported they may be resolving their issues with members living on the property in RVs. They still have some issues regarding articles for sale accumulating in or around the building. They are working on resolving parking issues and marking the ‘no parking’ areas.
 - Rickreall – Carol continues reporting, there is a

Morning Star Grange Donates Food

On Wednesday March 29 Morning Star Grange #311, Linn county, distributed the 664.5 pounds of non-perishable food stuffs collected by Grange members between July 1 to December 31, 2016. It was divided among two food provider groups, two group care homes and two individuals. These included the VFW's Veterans Program, the Jefferson Community Food Pantry and group homes Sanders and Scheler Houses in Albany.

GWA Chairman Sandy Decker and Community Service Chairman Heather Decker assisted by Eric Dable, sorted, weighed, and arranged for the food stuffs to be distributed and/or picked up.

Glen and Linda Baker picked up several boxes of food for the VFW's Veterans Program.

Bellview Grange Opens Market

Bellview Grange #759, Jackson County, is hosting a community indoor & outdoor market on the first Saturday of the month now through November with a special Holiday Market in December.

This community service is designed to attract people to the south end of Ashland and to provide a place for yard sales as well as an opportunity for the sale and purchase of a large array of merchandise at affordable prices.

Friends, neighbors and tourists alike are invited to attend. Bellview Grange has adequate parking. Refreshments will be for sale along with room for 20+ vendors outside and 15 inside. Also inside the Grange is a back room that will be filled with donated items for sale to benefit the Bellview Grange's frequent offerings of free educational and entertainment events.

Vendor spaces are on a first come, first serve basis with set up the morning of at 7:30am. $10 for a 10' x 10' space outside, or a 6' x 4' space inside. The market will open to the public at 9am. For more information please call 531-535-1854 or send an email to bvgrentals@gmail.com.

- continuation of the issue with the neighbor regarding easement for access. There was an offer of an agreement but weather caused cancellation of the Grange meeting
 - Gresham—Carol continues reporting, says they have been holding meetings but cancelled December and January due to weather. Because of the weather cancellations they are holding officer installation this month and Carol will be installing them. Their flea market tables compete with the Grange hall for available space.
 - Jackson Pomona – Not having meetings, say they cannot get enough people. Hearing similar reports from several other Pomona Granges around the state.
 - Valley Falls—Buzi has not had time to get down there to look over this property. Regarding possible reorganization, the Worthy Master spoke with one potential mentor but due to travel and weather problems this member could not commit to regular contact with a new Grange at Valley Falls. Without constant nurturing, prospects of success are low for a reorganized Grange where there is no existing Grange infrastructure and potential networking support.
