The Oregon State Grange Log Cabin at the state fairgrounds in Salem.

State Fair Log Cabin Volunteers Needed August 23 - September 2

We are looking for volunteers to represent the Grange at the State Fair Log Cabin. Many volunteers are needed from Friday, August 23rd through September 2nd. Commit three hours and you get free admission and parking and can tour the fair before and/or after your volunteer shift at the log cabin. Bring a crew from your Grange - each day has a "captain" who will show you the ropes. Basically, all you need to do is be friendly Grangers and help visitors get free cold water, look for a photo of their local Grange (we have photos of over a hundred halls displayed), and answer a question or two.

There are 155 volunteer shifts required, and as of July 24 only 21 spots are filled. This is a fun and easy way to help represent your Grange, the State Grange, and to meet new Grange friends and members of the public. To volunteer email Jim Dumolt jimjdumolt@gmail.com and State President Sonny Hays-Eberts president@orgrange.org or call the State Grange office Tuesday - Thursday 8:00 AM - 4:30 PM.

The President's Column

Sonny Hays-Eberts president@orgrange.org President - Oregon State Grange

The first weeks at work have been a whirlwind, but I have a lot of help and support and, perhaps naively, envision a time when the office duties might be routine. I want to thank the many people who have provided assistance, It has been invaluable.

I would like to introduce myself and lay out my goals.

Upon first glance, I may not appear as your typical Grange member. I served as an IT professional at both Oregon State University (OSU) and University pf Oregon (UO), and for research organizations. I have early exposure to farm life, and my father was a veteran. I enjoy many rural crafts and activities, and I love the sense of community found at squadron sized air bases, rural towns, and in the Grange. I have interest, exposure, or experience in all the areas of Grange work defined by our committees, even the Budget Committee.

My primary goal is to further the efforts of my predecessors to focus the State Grange on assisting and aiding community Granges. The State Grange offers help with training, promotional materials, financial support through loans and grants. and even a limited amount of free legal consultation. Contact the State office for more information.

I want to bring modern skills and a fresh perspective to the office. The State Grange can refine processes to allow cost savings, decrease processing errors, increase efficiency and communication, and demonstrate to prospective members the Grange is not only a historical organization, but is keeping up with modern times. The California State

Oregon State

The 151st Annual Convention of the Orgon State Grange was held June 16-20 in Tillamook, Oregon. Attendance for the five days was 176 with 52 Subordinate/ Community and eight Pomona Granges represented, mostly in person but a few on Zoom.

A highlight of the convention was Thursday's installation of the state officers for the 2024-26 term. Because no nominees for the President's position accepted the nomination and were not on the preferential ballot in April, the position was open for nominations from the floor. Elected and installed as President was Sonny Hays-Eberts, a member of Marys River Grange #685 in Philomath, who will serve as the 31st President.

Grange has done so already, and I want to work with them.

I understand some Granges lack the infrastructure, training, or interest to do online streaming, meetings, or submit online reports. The office will support such Granges, and there is NO intent to go fully paperless, or only use online submissions. Each Grange and member must be able to provide and receive information in the manner most satisfying their needs.

Just as forests have many trees. gardens have a variety of crops and families have a varied assortment of members, the Grange is not a monoculture. Our community Granges vary in membership makeup, how they conduct their meetings, what causes they support and what events they conduct. This variety is our strength. Each community Grange reflects its community and place in the state.

I encourage Granges to gather with other Granges. Share fundraising, work on halls, public events, or craft or prepare baked or canned entries for your local county fair, the State Fair, or the State Grange convention; have a quilting bee and donate to Veterans, or those in need. I have found from my own Grange, shared work not only lightens the load, it creates deep bonds and a sense of investment from those who do the work. "The work of another day demands our attention" is an important motto not just for the Grange, but for our lives.

Stronger connections between all levels of the Grange infuses new energy, and I am hopeful this provides opportunities for less active Pomona Granges to find purpose

Elects Grange

Additionally, the offices of Assistant Steward and Ceres had no nominations accepted and were not on the preferential ballot in April either, so nominations were taken from the floor. Elected Assistant Steward was John Fine of Riversdale #731 and elected Ceres was Amanda Puls of Myrtle Creek #442. Both are in Douglas County.

Joining Amanda as first time state officers are Gatekeeper Patrick Dearth, Creswell #496, Lane and Pomona Roberta County O'Dell, Santiam Valley #828, Linn County.

Returning to the OSG officer team is Sister Susie Kroeker of Crow #450 or as Lecturer. She had previously new served as LAS and Ceres. And and lead ways to accomplish this.

I want to be informed by all members and represent the entire State of Oregon. Coastal, Central, Eastern or Western Oregon, contemporary or traditional Granges, rural or urban; all deserve to be heard.

I believe Grange members love the Grange, act in a manner that serves the Grange, and strive to exemplify its ideals. May we all adhere to this charitable understanding. It is a gift of great benefit to our own lives and to our Granges.

I came to the convention in Tillamook intending to serve a final term as Treasurer and did not seek this office. My decision to accept the nomination came after an early morning discussion with my wife, Judy. She noted the many Grange members, and friends, some of whom who passed away in the past few years, served the Grange faithfully. With that understanding, how could I do less? She urged me to reconsider the nomination for President and offered her support. I would not be able to do this without her dedication.

I am honored by the faith you have expressed in me.

I hope to repay that faith with the effort and diligence it deserves.

May we all grant each other the charity of understanding.

In giving this charity, may we enjoy the fidelity of our Grange family.

Please consider coming to the Convention next year, even if for just a day. The friendships and sense of community are bountiful rewards. The members are welcoming and inviting, and I would love to meet you. We debate resolution issues passionately, and then we enjoy the camaraderie of those we debated with at meals and social events without animosity, a stirring example for how government could function. And who knows, you might just leave as the 32^{nd} President of the Oregon State Grange someday!

New Officers

Sister Joyce Parker, Springwater #263, who had previously served as Treasurer, was elected to Position #2 on the Executive Committee.

With Brother Sonny's election to President, the position of Treasurer became vacant. Elected was Linda Helm who was retiring as State Pomona.

President's Annual Address 151st Annual Convention Jay Sexton, State President

Introduction

In visiting Granges across the state, I often describe the impressions I have had of Grange during my 14 years of membership. I have been most impressed by the respect and civility in debating the virtues of proposals in our Home Granges, at Pomonas, and at our State Convention. We come from different backgrounds, and experiences, but we can talk together of our desires to make our communities better. Over the years I have seen this demonstrated time and again, and it is certainly one of the reasons I kept returning. Grangers of every stripe could come together to respectfully decide policy issues.

Why have we endured for over 150 years? What was it that Oliver Hudson Kelly and his fellow founders created that made this fellowship survive? The structure of Grange allows people to come together as brothers and sisters. Over the years our communities have benefitted from the cooperation and community mindedness of Grangers across this state, and today people are hungry for the face-to-face interactions that Granges provide. Our welcoming attitude and civility are rarer than they should be in our communities.

I am very happy to see you all here today, and I look forward to this week together. The District Three Hosting Committee has been hard at work preparing a Convention full of value, and I am happy to welcome you to this country of trees, cheese, and ocean breezes.

Agriculture

Every year our various agricultural enterprises struggle with a host of unknowns, changes, threats, and random effects. Lately Bird Flu has caused the deaths of 100 million chickens and innumerable birds of different species, both wild and domestic. Dairies are now seeing Bird Flu in cattle, where it is less lethal but can cause lingering reductions in health and production. Farmers have reacted to these threats with new sanitation and isolation regimes, with varying success. Quick responses by researchers are developing vaccines to protect cattle and chickens, and Dairy workers are using new personal protective equipment to reduce the likelihood of transmission to humans.

Technology continues to make advances in modern farming, from mapping micronutrient deficiencies, and drone detection of crop pests and diseases, to robot weeding devices. Early versions of these technologies will be expensive, slow, and inefficient, but promising concepts will evolve until they enter the mainstream as improvements.

Farmers Markets and Farm Stands continue to be very popular, connecting consumers in a physical way to the producers of their food, while also allowing farmers to keep a much greater share of the income resulting from their labor, avoiding middlemen. Ripe local foods are superior in flavor and nutrition and the connection to the seasons prompts consumers to look in new ways at supermarket tomatoes in December, and blueberries in January. Many Granges celebrate events with local foods and bring neighbors into an honest relationship with the foods they eat.

Although Grange began in a time when the majority of families were farmers, today only a small percentage of Americans farm. The Grange has always been a community organization, and in our beginnings many of our issues and activities were related to farming. Today we are still a community organization, and most Grange events and activities have little connection to agriculture. When we are describing Grange to newcomers, we should emphasize our community activities, because when we say early on that we are an agricultural organization we draw a line between most community members and the Grange. To Grow Grange, we must engage and attract our Communities.

Water

We wish for water clean and pure in the right amount and at the right time, and we are often disappointed. Protecting our water sources, and promoting wise policies are in every Granger's interest. Recently we have become aware of plans to enforce domestic water well restrictions prohibiting commercial small farming use of wells classified as domestic. Small farm advocates are concerned that this will prohibit very small acreage farmers who may be beginning their agricultural businesses. Grange will consider several resolutions at our convention that support the rights of small farmers to continue their small enterprises.

Discussions regarding dams continue to make the news. Dams contribute to flood control, carbon free electrical generation, irrigation supplies, transportation systems, salmon population fluctuations, and recreation, affecting our lives and the natural world in many ways. Wise policies that balance the many interests of dam management are difficult to craft, and Grange policy considerations can contribute to these decisions.

Legislation

In this last year, the Grange member interest in the monthly Zoom meeting of the Legislative Committee has continued to be strong. This is an effective way to get timely news from our Legislative Committee Director and our part-time Lobbyist to be informed of developments in Salem and in State Agencies. Many of the resolutions we will consider this week will deal with government and policy development. Grange has a solid reputation in the Halls of Government, and we have plenty of room to improve our influence. Individual Granges can approve policies at the local level and make their voices heard. When a Grange communicates with the media or a legislator or staff person the communication should clearly state what level of Grange is being represented. Home Grange #111 supports X, so that the communication will not be misinterpreted as a statement by the State or National Grange.

Grange encourages full engagement by its individual members in the political process, but Grange organizations themselves must not take positions on candidates or political parties.

Education

I strongly urge Grangers to support Oregon Agriculture in the Classroom programs in our schools. This program has a natural affinity with Grange, using volunteers to deliver agricultural education to elementary school children. Ag in the Classroom designs lessons that anyone can bring to a teacher, demonstrating a simple lesson, reading an informative story, and often providing a hands-on learning experience. The lessons are usually provided free, and many teachers will welcome the volunteer help with an engaging lesson. An investment of a few hours could stay with a school kid for the rest of his life.

Additionally, Oregon Ag in the Classroom publishes a textbook called "Get Oregonized" which teaches History of Oregon's Regions for grades 3, 4, and 5.

Raising funds to provide these textbooks to local classrooms is a worthwhile Grange project.

Grangers in many communities raise funds to donate dictionaries to classrooms in the "Words for Thirds" program. It is gratifying to see the smiling faces of the children and the adults when these books are given to each child. All Grangers can take pride in the long support our organization has provided to public education.

Broadband

National Grange has advocated for Rural Broadband for many years, and last year a grant from the Federal Communications Commission offered rural broadband at reduced rates to participants. This grant was awarded to the National Grange and many Granges participated in promoting the Affordable Connectivity Program. Many Oregon Granges distribute signs and handouts promoting this program and some Granges received monetary rewards for their participation.

Rural broadband has the potential to improve education, economies, and connectivity in the many rural communities in which our Granges are most important. Reliable internet can connect people to educational institutions, medical practitioners, markets for specialty products, and wide-ranging interest groups that were not available in rural areas before these technological advances.

Grange was very involved with the early mail-order businesses such as Sears and Roebuck and Montgomery Ward which grew successful in the same era when Grange was sweeping across the country in the 1870's and 80's. Today Grange advocacy for Rural Broadband opens a world of opportunities for small rural entrepreneurs to connect with a global marketplace.

Democracy

In an election year it seems that the news is so full of campaigning and that it has been going on forever. One strength of Grange culture is our prohibition of partisan and sectarian discussion during the work of our order (meetings) by National Grange Bylaw 1.12.1

This allows us to avoid some of the most common sources of rancor in our daily lives, and helps us see each other as brothers, sisters, and neighbors. Grange can be an oasis of community feeling where we work together.

While Grange avoids these topics in our meetings, we at the same time encourage our members to fully participate as individuals in the democratic process. I have great faith in the good will of individual Grangers to support policies and candidates that work toward bettering our communities, states and our nation

Conclusion

This is my second and last President's Address. I have enjoyed these two years, though they have not been a walk in the park. There has been much to learn and many different challenges. I have done my best and sometimes that has seemed good enough, and sometimes it has not. I am proud to have carried this office forward for two years, in a line of Grange workers from 1873.

Now I look forward to helping the Oregon State Grange move forward in different ways, encouraging membership growth and working together to strengthen our individual Granges. I also look forward to more time with my aging parents on the East coast and my, soon to be, four grandchildren in Oregon. Grange is a family organization and we all know the importance of family. It was my pleasure to serve you, and I look forward to working with you all to make our Oregon State Grange stronger.

The Lecturer's Column

Susie Kroeker sjones1273@hotmail.com Lecturer - Oregon State Grange

Hi everyone! I'm Susie Kroeker. I am a member of Crow Grange in Lane County and just joined as an affiliate member at the newly reorganized Western Star Grange in Linn County. I live in Albany and work full-time in Salem. I am excited and honored to be the newly elected Oregon State Grange Lecturer. I have served as Lecturer at both the Subordinate and Pomona levels. I am looking forward to growing our State Lecturer's contests, as well as helping Lecturers with the process of creating educational and entertaining Lecturer's programs.

Past State Lecturer Cookie Trupp has left me some very large shoes to fill. Thank you, Cookie, for your mentorship and for all you have done to help our Lecturers throughout the state.

One of the first tasks I have been undertaking in my new position has been forming our statewide Lecturer's Committee. I am happy to announce that I have most of the district chairs filled, except for District 1. I would like to make sure that the entire state is represented. If anyone from that neck of the woods would like to join our team or knows of someone who would like to help on our committee, let me know.

I am pleased to announce the Oregon State Grange Lecturer's Committee. I am eager to work with these individuals in the next few years.

The Oregon State Grange Convention in Tillamook had the Lecturer's department busy with the Talent Show, as well as the art, photography and various other contests. The winners are listed elsewhere in the Bulletin. Some contests were very popular with lots of entries while others had little participation. I would love to see the talents of our members well represented at the State Conventions But I will need everyone's help. Keep your eyes out during the year for those in your Grange who should be entering either the talent show or any of the other contests. Do you have a musician at your meetings? Someone who sings in a church or school choir? How about that high schooler who is learning to play an instrument? Did you take a painting class? Did your Grange make a flyer for an upcoming event? Do you know someone who likes to write stories? There is a place for all these people in our state competitions. Encourage your brothers and sisters to show off their talents so we can enjoy them too!

I have spoken with the GWA and Junior Directors and we will be working together on contests for the next State Grange Convention in District 4. I am hoping to add a few new photography categories and possibly remove a few contests that don't D get any participation. Stay tuned.

Advice From A Farmer's Wife

- Whenever you return a borrowed pie pan, make sure it's got a Re warm pie in it.
- Invite lots of folks to supper. You can always add more water to the soup.
- Make home a happy place for the children. Everyone returns to their happy place.
- Always keep a small light on in the kitchen window at night.
- If your husband gets his truck stuck in the field, don't go in after him. Throw him a rope and pull him out with the tractor.
- Keep the kerosene lamp away from \mathbf{F} the milk cow's legs.
- It's a whole lot easier to get breakfast for a chicken than a pig.
- Always pat the chickens when you take their eggs. It is easier to clean an empty house,
- but hard to live in one.
- children spill milk. Learn to smile and wipe it up. Homemade is always better than
- store bought. A tongue's like a knife. The sharper it is the deeper it cuts. A good neighbor always knows when to visit and when to leave. Enjoy doing your children's laundry. Someday they'll be gone.

- You'll never catch a running chicken but if you throw seed around the back door, you'll have a skillet full by supper.
- Biscuits brown better with a little butter brushed on them.

Check your shoelaces before running to help somebody.

Visit old people who can't get out. Someday you'll be one.

The softer you talk; the closer folks will listen

The colder the outhouse, the warmer the bed.

Cookie Trupp truppcookie@gmail.com Chaplain - Oregon State Grange

Greetings,

"The master said, 'well good, my good and faithful servant. You have been faithful in handling this small amount, so now I will give you many more responsibilities. Let's celebrate together!"

Mathew 24:23 NLT

Know that God celebrates with us our small faith victories. What might seem little to us is a big deal to him. He is proud of us. He knows exactly how much effort we put into a difficult conversation, or Blessings!

how we resisted temptation, or how we didn't say that harsh word but instead practiced gentleness. He sees each of our seemingly little steps and celebrates with us. He knows that eventually that little step might seem like a drop in the ocean as we grow in him, but for now he is proud of each little step we take.

As we go about our day, don't just focus on how much we can get done. Rather, focus on how much we can learn. Life has much to offer --- embrace it!

The Agricultural Report

June Colony grassjune@hotmail.com Agriculture Director - Oregon State Grange

"Where there are sheep,

The wolves are never very far away." Plautus of Rome

The wolves came again last night. This time they jumped the 300 foot, 48 inch, 8,000 volt electric fence erected as a night pen to protect my flock. I was sleeping in a bunkhouse bed against the back of the house, just 20 feet away from that new night pen. It was 2:30 a.m. when my flock leaped up and huddled together, calling out in fear. The slight moonlight cast shadows around the flock as I shouted, the dog barked and the sheep stared nervously to the south. Time passed and the sheep, dog and I settled back down to sleep.

It wasn't until I let the sheep back ous friends with guns have slept out to graze the next morning, that I saw the lamb lying awkwardly in ous wolf. My nerves are frayed.

the paddock alone. It was dead, with blood on his wool when I turned him over.

I called the Government Trapper, and he soon arrived with the ODFW Regional Wolf Specialist. They skinned the lamb, revealing fang marks and crushed ribs. Over the last 4 weeks, four sheep have fallen to those wolf fangs here at my farm. In farms nearby, another 15+ sheep have met the same fate.

The Wolf specialist is not against removing the "rogue wolf". But finding it, and shooting it using agency and private permits has been attempted for many months... and still the livestock killings continue. For the last two weeks, various friends with guns have slept out behind my house to kill that dangerous wolf. My nerves are frayed.

We had another good year and a wonderful State convention. Thanks to the District 3 team and the Tillamook County Fairgrounds for hosting.

Thank you to all the Granges that took time, effort and love in putting together their Community Service books. And to the 57 Granges that submitted their Annual Community Service-Involvement reports. I'm so sorry to say that nobody submitted "Volunteer of the Year". Please make time to recognize your local volunteers by submitting one of them as Volunteer of the Year for The real benefit of taking the time to fill out the report is documenting each Grange's Community Service for their members and to preserve our IRS status as a Non-Profit.

Oregon State Grange - www.orgrange.org

We are actively recruiting my replacement to take over the Community Service Department in 2026. The sooner a Granger steps up and accepts this opportunity the sooner we can work together and have a smooth turnover. Please contact me or the State President and volunteer.

The Community Service team is: District 1 Vacant we need a volunteer District 2 Linda Wetzell District 3 Mikela Heimuller-Chamberlain District 4 Courtney Rae District 5 Joanne McBride At Large Jeff Dehne

It's not too early to do your planning to come up with a new project and do project(s) that are successful and needed by your community for next year.

The State Grange Community Service Department and Oregon State Grange appreciates all the service that your Grange and all our fellow Grangers do to make our neighborhoods better. We continue to support our 'Home Town Values' with our 'Community Roots'.

Rally 'round! Your State Grange Needs Your Time and Talents

The Oregon State Fair is approaching, and rapidly from my perspective. The State Grange needs volunteers for staffing the log cabin at the State Fair, from Aug 23 until Sep 2, as well as help cleaning and setting up ahead of opening, and cleaning and returning items to storage after the fair ends.

You can find more detail on volunteering for the Log Cabin on page 1 and page 24.

While the State Fair Log Cabin is an immediate need, the State office has other opportunities for those considering volunteering. Events such as Ag-Fest and the State Annual Convention are a lot of effort. We're open to assistance at the office, and the building can always use some attention. If we restart workshops, that will entail creating and assembling training materials. I want to encourage newer Grange members, and those who have not volunteered, to give it a try. It is not a large time commitment, and is not difficult work. If your personality is shy, or reticent, I understand it may be challenging to step out of your comfort zone, but I feel you will find the benefits you reap far outweigh the initial discomfort.

There are benefits to volunteering. Volunteers develop a deeper understanding of the State Grange and office, and can learn new skills and make new friends. The work performed, be it representing the Grange or aiding at the office or building, provide tangible benefits. But the most profound benefit to all is the creation and deepening of fraternal bonds between members across the state.

Blue Zones Recap and News from the Convention

Hello Grangers!

It was so good to see so many of you at our state convention this June. We accomplished a lot and made friendships that will broaden and enrich our lives for years to come. If you weren't able to make the party this year, the DAFH booth featured our latest work where we investigated Blue Zones around the world and the Blue Zone Projects that have been implemented here in Oregon. If you are interested in seeing the presentation, check on the State Grange website towards the end of this summer. I will post it there, with narration.

In addition to learning about what the Oregon Blue Zone Project areas are introducing to our rural communities, we also gave away copies of the books The Bue Zones and Chair Exercises for Seniors, exercise resistance bands, herb and vegetable seeds, and fresh herbs, donated by our generous sponsors. We also asked for and received some feedback from Grangers at the convention regarding their thoughts about Blue Zones, and I thought I would share that with you now.

Overall, there wasn't as much Blue Zone community awareness as would be ideal. When asked if they knew what the Blue Zones were, only 40% of attendees answered yes, and only 29% were aware that there were Blue Zone Projects in Oregon. The good news was that whether attendees were aware of Blue Zones, or not, most of them were interested in the components of healthy living that have made the Blue Zones popular.

We asked questions specifically about the Life Lesson categories featured in the Blue Zones, and here's what we learned. Approximately 66% of our attendees feel that they put family first, but 33% expressed obstacles trying to coordinate everyone's schedules. When asked if they wished they had more tools to deal with daily stress, 100% of attendees who answered said yes, they would like additional stress coping tools. Likewise, 100% of those asked said they would like to incorporate more vegetables into their diets and 100% said they would like to get more physical activity on a regular basis. This is very good news. The intent to make small changes is a great first step.

I'd like to thank everyone for your very warm reception. It's my great pleasure to serve in this position and to prepare and provide these (hopefully helpful) information brochures and other fun, free goodies for you. Please join me in thanking our wonderful sponsors who provided materials for us to distribute at our booth and to use as our auction items. Thank you so much for your generosity, Lee Farms, BiMart, Winona Grange #271, Bulk Book Wholesale, Optimal Results Physical Therapy and Van Hevelingen Herb Nursery. Thank you everyone for coming by and helping yourself,

Over the next few Bulletin editions, I will be covering what happens at the Oregon Department of Education when a new standard is required because of state law changes or proposed because of changes in needs to help students after they leave the K-12 system. The standard we will start with is the Civics standard that is required because of Senate Bill 513 passed in 2021 that requires a half credit civics course for an Oregon diploma, starting with the Class of 2026.

I am also currently looking for a District 5 and District 1 Education committee person. If you or someone you know would be a good fit and willing to help, please let me know.

The 2024 Annual Meeting of the Oregon State Grange Foundation was held on Sunday, June 16 at the Tillamook County Fairgrounds. The purpose of the meeting was to report on the activities of your OSG Foundation for the year just ended.

Foundation Treasurer, David Mc-Bride, reported assets at the end of the year were over $250,000. The investments of these funds are used for scholarships and awards. In 2023 the foundation received three donations, each of $10,000 or more.

The foundation was pleased to award $2,500 in scholarships this year. The first ever Lousie Holst

Memorial Scholarship was awarded to Phoebe Coen of Marys River Grange #685, Benton County. The scholarship is $500. Two Muzzy Mandel scholarships of $1000 each were awarded to Riley Reynolds of Santiam Valley Grange # 828, Linn County, and Phoebe Coen of Marys River Grange #685, Benton County.

Election for Region 3 trustee was held and Joe Peter of Kinton Grange #562, Washington County, was elected to a 5-year term on the Board of Trustees. The annual Granges Attending State Session (GASS) awards drawings were held and twenty attendees each received $25

Oregon Junior Grangers

Vickie Thorp vickiethorp@yahoo.com OSG Junior Director

I would like to take this opportunity in my first column to tell you a little bit about myself. I am a lifelong Grange member and generations of my family have been very active in Myrtle Creek Grange #442. My parents, Calvin and Lavina Clack were the Oregon State Outstanding Young Couple in 1966. And my mom was the Oregon State Youth Director for a time. Growing up, I spent many years as a Junior Grange member attending State Grange sessions.

I was Junior Grange Matron (that title is a blast from the past) for Myrtle Creek Junior Grange for about 15 years. I had 29 Juniors, and most of them attended meetings (2 per month) on a regular basis. It was very exciting to see how the kids came together to accomplish the various projects and activities each month.

The Junior 1+ members in Myrtle Creek Grange take an active part in a variety of community service projects each year that I spearhead. We don't have enough for a charter just yet, but we keep the Juniors really busy.

I am currently Master/President of Myrtle Creek Grange #442 and am the Douglas County Pomona #13 Lecturer/Program Director.

State Grange convention in Tillamook was great! I was 1st Delegate for my Grange, so I did not get to spend much time in the Junior Room. I still heard all about it from my granddaughter that was in attendance. Some of the Juniors participated in the Talent Contest on Saturday evening at the Kickoff Dinner.

Sunday was Degree Day, and the Juniors came in to watch the Rosebud Drill during the Sixth Degree. We had a Junior Granger as a member of the Rosebud Drill team and the ladies all did a fantastic job!

On Tuesday, the Juniors honored our Grange Veterans by presenting small American flags to each Veteran in attendance. There were lots of red tennis shoes worn by the entire delegation Tuesday in support of our Juniors.

Wednesday morning, the Juniors joined the regular session to observe the Youth Opening. One of our Juniors marched with the Youth team for the Opening. Afterwards, the Juniors participated in a Mineeraft Architect competition and the winners were announced at the Youth Luncheon. While there were only a handful of Juniors at this year's session, the friendships the kids made were just priceless to watch. There were lots of hugs and even a few tears when it was time to say goodbye at the end of the week.

I hope to build on those friendships throughout the year by having a quarterly event for our Juniors to participate in and reconnect. The plan would be to rotate these events and have a different District host us each quarter. We would encourage our Juniors to include a friend to join them, in turn this may help build our Junior membership. These should be able to be low-cost events so that will mean easier access for more children.

This should also help as new Juniors join the Grange during the year to get to know other Juniors around the state and look forward to getting together for Junior Grange session at State Grange. A Junior Grange Camp is running around in my head as well. Dream BIG, right?

Soon I intend to begin a program that will involve sending a meaningful craft kit/project to each Junior member and have us connect via zoom to complete the project together. Have fun and learn about each other and some fundamental Grange/life values all at the same time! I will try to coordinate with our State Grange Lecturer and GWA Director so these things can be included in the contests at State Grange for the Juniors.

With so much to learn going forward, I really hope to have your input with any helpful hints, ideas and suggestions. And of course, volunteer help is greatly appreciated!

In closing, our Junior Grangers are the future of this organization !! We have to make it fun while instilling the basic precepts the Grange is built upon. They will live up to our expectations!! So please be sure you include the Juniors in all parts of your Grange. They want to be involved and know we consider them to be an important part of what we do. Really hear their ideas and what they think is important! Remember Junior 1+ members can fill in for your officer positions at your meetings when needed, so ask them to help out!

Legislative Update

Mark Noah marknoah00@gmail.com OSG Legislative Director

My column for this issue is in the form of an open letter to Governor Tina Kotek, Representative Ken Helm, Representative Mark Owens, and all Oregon legislators focused on water policies

Dear Governor Kotek and Representatives Owens and Helm:

As Oregon State Grange Legislative Director, my aim is to inform our members on issues that may affect their lives and to represent the Grange opinion when possible. I am writing to express our concern that, in the overall effort to update Oregon's water policies, the voices of rural well-owners, many of whom are Grange members, may be drowned out. Under current regulations domestic well-owners are allotted up to 5,000 gallons of water per day for any commercial purpose except agriculture. No one seems to know why this agriculture exception, which apparently dates to 1956, was included in water law but in the present time it serves to criminalize a person for watering their own garden with their own water allotment and then selling garden produce at a farmstand or farmer's market. This seems like a minor issue, but it most certainly is not trivial to someone who has been served with a cease-and-desist order by their county water master, which is happening. These actions are supposedly being taken in the name of preventing future droughts but the fact is the water being used is part Fraternally, of the well-owner's lawful allotment so no water is being 'saved' by these enforcement measures. and their effect is to make life harder for people trying to make a little extra by selling fresh local produce to their neighbors.

At our annual delegate convention this past June in Tillamook, the Oregon State Grange adopted a resolution calling for changes in existing water rules to allow domestic well-owners to use their commercial allotment for agriculture.

Should the rules be changed to allow agricultural use of domestic water allotment, some form of verification may be needed that the user is not exceeding their allowance. While there was not uniform acceptance for measuring devices among our delegates we did agree that, in light of the fact that the well-owner paid for the digging and improving of the well and pays for the power needed to pump the water, if measuring devices are required they should be provided by the state. A resolution to this effect was adopted

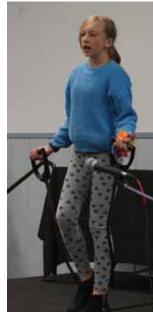

Some Granges have already been hosting information sessions facilitated by Friends of Family Farmers, and more have signed up to do so. We support the overall goal of updating Oregon's water policies in light of vastly improved scientific information, but we will continue to give voice to those whose interests may seem minor but should not be overlooked.

Veterans

Patrick Dearth soudad21@gmail.com Oregon State Grange Veterans Director

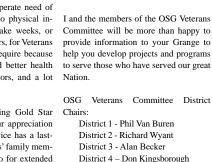

As a Veteran of 24 years, I deeply appreciate Grange's commitment to our Nation's Veterans. I am honored to have been appointed Oregon State Grange Veterans Director.

The men and women who have laid their lives on the line to protect our nation from foreign and domestic threats have made it possible for us to enjoy the freedoms we have today. They deserve our respect and our support.

Some come home in desperate need of help, whether it be due to physical injuries or PTSD. It can take weeks, or months, or sometimes years, for Veterans to receive the care they require because of their service. We need better health care facilities, more doctors, and a lot less red tape.

Military families, including Gold Star Families, also deserve our appreciation and respect. Military service has a lasting impact on our Veterans' family members who often have to go for extended periods of time without the support most people receive from spouses, parents, and children.

Granges can support our Veterans and address those issues.

God Bless our Country that we so proudly served, and God bless you.

GWA Susan Noah susannoah6@gmail.com OSG Grange Workers Activities Director

To begin my column this time I would like to take the opportunity to thank our incoming president, Sonny Hays-Eberts, for giving me the opportunity to serve as the GWA Director for this coming term. My committee and I have already started to talk about where we want to take the GWA, and I am excited for the changes that I hope we can bring.

Our new committee consists of: District #1 – Linda Helm District #2 – Paula Herrick District #3 – Teresa Cernac District #4 – John DeHaas Member at Large – Annette Naylor

I am still missing someone from District #5, so if anyone is interested in serving the State Grange in this capacity, please reach out to me.

State convention went well, and we had over 200 entries in the GWA contests! As I introduced in my last column we started a couple of new awards. This year for the first time we awarded the Grange who brought the most entries with a check for $150 and the person who brought the most entries was awarded $100. The Grange that won the award this year was Redland #796 with 47 entries from various members and non-members. The winning individual was Patrick Sanders of Redland with eleven items entered. We all like a good challenge so next year encourage your members to take part and maybe bring home a nice prize for themselves and for the Grange!

Due to several beautiful items that had to be turned away this year we are starting a Home Décor category that should encompass all forms of home decorations. We also had some offers to sponsor other new contests in the baking area so look for a few new items there as well.

I would also like to thank Brother

Jim Clute and Sister Marilyn Reiher for their help in finding homes for the items to be given way. With over 300 pillowcases donated by Little Deschutes Grange alone and many other entries from around the state, Jim's offer to find homes for them with Veterans and troops in district #3 was quite a help! Marilyn also offered to help by taking the Premie Hats and Afghans to their home in District #3. Having help from the district makes my job so much easier and makes sure that the items donated make it to a home in the hosting area!

For Good Dog and Good Cat baskets I turned to a family member who lives in Beaverton and who has volunteered with the organization that I used. Ten entries were donated to Oregon Friends of Shelter Animals in Hillsboro. As a foster based rescue group, they were excited to receive all the individual items and already had plans to send out the squeaky toys with the next group of foster parents. While our last dog, Bailey, always wanted the dog gifts to win out I saw some beautiful cats at the shelter who will love all the cat items! I love the fact that the entries in these two contests went to a shelter to help animals looking for their forever home.

We are also still looking for sponsors for the following contests: Drop Cookies – No Peanut Butter or Choc. Chip sponsor fee $12; and Canned Meats or Fish sponsor fee $12. Sponsors may be individuals or Granges.

As we move through the year, I am hopeful that you will be hearing more from the GWA committee. We do plan on conferences next year, touching on a variety of issues along with a little fun! Stay tuned for more information and please keep creating all the beautiful and tasty items! Maybe 2025 will be your year to come home with the prize!

State GWA Director, Susan Noah, delivered the ten Good Dog and Good Cat baskets entered at the state convention to Oregon Friends of Shelter Animals in Hillsboro, a foster based rescue group.

I am excited by the opportunities in my new position of Director of the Membership Committee at the Oregon State Grange. Over the last two years when I was State Grange President, I was not able to find a volunteer for this Director position. That was unfortunate, as this Committee is very important in helping Granges grow their memberships.

Here are a couple of things that I have seen work in the two Granges where I am a member of Marys River #685 and Willamette #52, both in Benton County

First, an Open House with the goal of "Learn about the Grange" or "Membership Drive" is intimidating for community members who know little about our order. A free event that has attractive features such as family friendly activities, kids' activities, music, relevant information, snacks or other food, and friendly volunteers will bring in people from the community.

A welcoming atmosphere is important. Also have the "What Is A Grange?" sign that is being delivered to all Oregon Granges displayed in a location that every visitor will be able to see it. There are many misconceptions about Grange, and some people are shy to ask Somewhere in the Hall there should be a "Grange Table" with a couple of your friendliest Grangers. If you have a sign at this table saying your membership goal this year is to reach 50 members by the end of the year, people will often ask "What is your membership now?" and that starts a conversation.

Grange Youth & Young Adults

OSG.youth@gmail.com OSG Youth/Young Adult Co-Directors

Hello Brothers and Sisters,

With the changing of leadership at the 2024 Oregon State Grange Convention in Tillamook, Oregon came the changing of Directors. The Youth and Young Adults program is thrilled to welcome Amanda Puls and Jim Dumolt as the new Co-Directors. Amanda is a member of Myrtle Creek Grange in Douglas County and has been a member for four years. She helps with the local farmers market every Saturday, she helps with the city's Easter egg hunt, and many more Grange projects. Jim is a member of Clarkes Grange in Clackamas County and has been a member for 25 years. Jim helps at the Veterans Village in Clackamas County and with the annual community picnic in Clarkes, among other things. He is the President of his local Grange.

Jim and Amanda look forward to bringing some new ideas to the table and keeping some old ones. Some of those ideas include bringing back the weekend camping trip for Youth and Young Adults and their families. They are also hoping that the contests planned for April will be well attended. Both Amanda and Jim have some ideas about where they want the Youth and Young Adults program to go, both agree that they want to see it grow and get more involvement from members that are in the fourteen-tothirty-five-year age range.

They are still looking for some youth or young adults to fill out the district chairpeople for the committee. So if you know of anyone who might want to do it or would be a good fit for it, please contact them at osg.youth@gmail.com, where they can give more details about what the position would entail.

Both Amanda and Jim, are looking forward to working together as the heads of this program and are interested to see where it goes in the next couple of years. They would like to thank you all for your support and generosity in the future.

AG #1: Agriculture Policy Statements

Resolved: The following edited policy statement section be retained as Resolved: The following edited section be retained as Grange policy. Grange policy:

- · Agriculture is the oldest recorded commercial enterprise known to man. While it is no longer number one, it supports, directly or indirectly, a large share of the state's employment. Forestry provides a close second to commercial agriculture. Recreation is also important, and it is dependent on both Agriculture and Forestry. Agricultural crops, livestock, and wood products are also renewable resources unlike some other industries. Agriculture, forestry, and recreation all require inputs of air, water, soil, and sunlight.
- Therefore, it is the policy of the Oregon State Grange that Agriculture and Forestry will be given equal and/or priority consideration when environmental or economic plans are formulated for the use of air, water, soil, and sunlight.

AG #2: Support for Broad Agricultural and Forestry Goals

Resolved: The following edited sections be retained as Grange policy:

- Flexibility in farm programs to support family owned and operated farms at minimum public expense.
 - Allowing farmers to reestablish their proven yields.
- Commodity loan rates set at or near cost of production.
- Costs of programs mandated by the federal or state government will be borne or at least cost-shared by the mandating government.
- The Oregon Departments of Agriculture and Fish and Wildlife be given adequate authority and resources to control the importation or transportation of feed products that have a potential of containing noxious weeds into agricultural and recreational areas that are presently free of these weeds.
- Cooperation with other organizations to present a solid front in support of farm, forestry, and livestock production - especially by family owned and operated farms.
- Multiple sustainable uses of public lands for grazing, timber, and recreation.
- Truth-in-Labeling of U.S. grown agricultural products.
- That each state enact laws to protect the viability and sustainability of its land and local agriculture.
- That Oregon regulate urbanization and other development to conserve and sustain its soils, farms, and forests to provide for future generations.
- That economically viable alternatives be developed before critical agricultural inputs are restricted for non-safety reasons such as climate change.
- hydropower generators be maintained and modernized to maintain the competitiveness of U.S. manufacturing, agricultural and forestry sectors, and minimize impacts on the natural environment.
- That state and federal regulations of farm practices be administered by the various departments of agriculture.
- That federal and state regulations support the family farm concept. A family farm being a business enterprise that provides food, fiber, forestry, and related products and services; owned, operated, managed, and financed by family members.

AG #3: Water Policy

Resolved: The following edited section be retained as Grange policy:

- · Support legislation that provides flow rights by priority dates of applications while respecting needs of tribes and wildlife. The oldest rights having priority and places in-stream water right applications on hold when stream flows are being exceeded by existing water rights.
- Support the establishment of additional off-stream water storage facilities and aquifer recharge areas.
- Support regulations requiring measurement and reporting of water usage in basins with water shortages. Support taxpayer cost sharing for required measuring devices.

AG #4: Soil Policy

Resolved: The following edited section be retained as Grange policy:

- Support defining "Wetlands" as used by the legislature to not include prior converted wetlands and not include isolated wetland areas smaller than one acre.
- Support taxing agricultural and forestry lands outside of urban growth boundaries on the basis of agricultural or forestry use value.
- When agricultural and forestry planning are being considered by planning agencies, intensively managed small horticultural and nursery ownerships be given equal consideration with more extensive field cropping.
- Support reasonable regulations limiting soil erosion.

AG #5: Air Policy

- Support air, smoke, dust, and carbon control measures that consider the most economical and expeditious means of reducing pollution while maintaining agricultural competitiveness.
- Support research and programs to utilize more fully the by-products from grass, grain, and forest that will reduce air smoke-pollution and provide an economic return to the grower.
- Support agricultural brush burning until an economically feasible alternative is developed.

AG #6: Grain Storage, Handling and Transportation Policy

- Resolved: The following section be retained as Grange policy.
 - Support active port terminals and storage facilities for export and import of grains and forestry products along the Columbia River.
 - Support on-farm storage facilities for grains.
 - Support a moisture, protein grade, and debris level for all grains based on world importers requirements with prices based on these requirements and any pricing premiums received to be shared with growers.
 - Support a multi-based barge/rail/highway farm commodities transportation system that assures the lowest possible cost of moving food and fiber to the consumer.

AG #7: Livestock Policy

Resolved: The following edited section be retained as Grange policy:

- Oppose the importation of meat, dairy, and fish products that do not meet U.S. Food and Drug standards of the same domestic products.
- Oppose any change in current USDA inspection laws that would weaken the inspection standards for fish, fowl, pork, beef, lamb, or other meat products.

AG #8: Chemicals Policy

Resolved: The following edited section be adopted as Grange policy:

- Support county, state, and federal legislation to cost share with landowners for control and containment of noxious weeds. Any legislation that is enacted should require public agencies to control weeds on the lands they are managing.
- Support county, state, and federal legislation that would permit timely use of chemical controls to eradicate exotic pests on an emergency basis.

AG #9: Farmland and Forest Land Policy

That critical infrastructure such as ports, dams, navigation locks, and Resolved: The following section should be retained as Grange policy as edited:

- The Oregon State Grange opposes governmental condemnation of agricultural acreage for the purpose of setting up recreational and environmental areas.
- The Oregon State Grange supports legislation that would prevent condemnation of water rights from agriculture to supply rural and/ or industrial development with water and, if water is unavailable, a temporary building halt be made in any area not having a ready and adequate source of water.

AG #10: Irrigation Policy

Resolved: The following section should be retained as edited:

- The Oregon State Grange supports the concept that agricultural use of water continues to be considered as a beneficial use of the waters of Oregon. Also, Oregon statutes recognize water used for agricultural food production and processing to be identified as beneficial uses equal to fish, wildlife, recreation, and other environmental water uses.
- The Oregon State Grange urges the Oregon State Water Resources Department to consider the needs of the Oregon farmers when making their decisions concerning minimum stream flow, and fish and wildlife uses. The Oregon State Grange also urges cooperation from all agencies and tribal government to provide for the needs of farmers, as well as those of fish and wildlife.
- The Oregon State Grange supports the efforts to help the Klamath irrigation users in their fight to keep their historical water rights and their ability to make a living off their land.

AG #11: Chemicals, Vegetation Control and Pests Policy

Resolved: The following section should be retained as edited:

- The Oregon State Grange strongly opposes a ban on the use of Sodium Nitrite.
- The Oregon State Grange favors allowing field burning by growers of fine fescue and some other varieties that require such burning to yield well, until such time as an established and effective alternative for purifying the fields is sanctioned by these farmers, and the Oregon Department of Agriculture.

- The Oregon State Grange supports invasive insect prevention and management to protect Oregon's agriculture, horticulture, environment, and quality of life from damaging insects using best management practices.
- The Oregon State Grange supports a two-tier law protecting livestock from dogs. Dogs that chase livestock outside incorporated cities shall be put to death upon the first offense. Dogs that chase livestock inside incorporated cities shall be put to death upon the second offense. All dogs that injure or kill livestock shall be put to death.
- The Oregon State Grange supports strict Dog Control laws with adequate enforcement. The Oregon State Grange also supports stiff penalties for those delinquent on restitution imposed by the court system.
- The Oregon State Grange firmly believes that ranchers should be allowed to kill a wolf that is killing or threatening to kill any live-stock or pet and supports any legislation that would allow such.
- The Oregon State Grange supports efforts to mitigate livestock loss as well as elk and deer population reductions due to wolves in Oregon.
- The Oregon State Grange wants our lobbyist to work toward introducing legislation that would direct the State of Oregon to compensate the owner of a calf or lamb killed by a wolf at their value based on three times the average weaning weight and other livestock and farm animals at three times their value.
- The Oregon State Grange supports the removal of many of the restrictions for game hunting and allow a hunt season of reasonable time and bag limit to reduce the numbers of the seven sub-species of Canadian Geese causing crop damage in the Willamette Valley.

AG #12: Foreign Aid and the Importation of Agricultural Products Policy

Resolved: The following section should be retained as Grange policy as edited:

- The Oregon State Grange supports regulations and, if needed to maintain a domestic industry, tariffs on imported agricultural products. The Oregon State Grange urges that grain exports be kept to a level where they do not jeopardize our domestic needs.
- The Oregon State Grange opposes the importation of agricultural products that have been produced using products such as veterinary products or pesticides not approved for use in the United States.
- The Oregon State Grange supports the Foreign Agricultural Investment Disclosure Act.

AG #13: Domestic Agricultural Aid Policy

Resolved: The following section should be retained as edited:

- The Oregon State Grange supports only farm programs that recognize the fact that all commodities are interrelated, and any change in supply, demand, or price of one affects the others. Because commodities are interrelated, careful consideration must be made of the economic impact on all commodities when a major change in any policy is made.
- The Oregon State Grange recognizes the problems of the small seed producer of non-hybrid seeds, and the State Grange strongly supports legislation, and/or programs short of subsidies, which would help the small independent seed producer.

AG #14: Farming Practices Policy

Resolved: The following section should be retained as Farming Practices policy:

- The Oregon State Grange expresses support for the formation of a coalition of farm organizations that would present a solid front in support of the farming industry, especially the family farm.
- The Oregon State Grange supports programs that would develop ethanol, biodiesel, or any other commercial type of fuel from surplus grain or other agricultural products or by-products.
- The Oregon State Grange believes Grange members should become involved in any open discussion of Agriculture through public forums. The State Grange shall encourage such participation by informing members of pending opportunities.

Government Affairs John DeHaas lobbyist@orgrange.org Lobbyist for the Oregon State Grange

Hello Grangers

Water rights in Oregon are heating up again and the government is calling for recommendations on water policies. We here at the Oregon State Grange will keep you updated as to what happens on these upcoming hearings and policy changes as soon as they are made available to us

Governor Kotek and a bipartisan team of lawmakers are rallying for action on Oregon's water policies, prompted by recommendations from a group of esteemed water attorneys. The attorneys outlined key concerns and suggestions for enhancing water laws in the state, emphasizing the need for better data collection, permitting processes, interagency coordination, and integration of indigenous knowledge.

In response to the attorneys advice, Governor Kotek has paused efforts to revise the state's Integrated Water Resources Strategy and enlisted the expertise of another natural resources advisor. Chandra Ferrari. The legal experts behind the call to action include Adell Amos, Janet Neuman, David Filippi, and Josh Newton, all well-versed in water law and environmental advocacy.

Highlighting critical issues such as inadequate funding, inconsistent reporting, and a backlog of con- Happy Trails tested cases, the attorneys stress the urgency of updating Oregon's water management practices. They urge for immediate gubernatorial attention and leadership to address the state's current and future water needs, emphasizing the importance of sustainable water use for all residents.

The attorneys' recommendations are based on thorough analysis of past water reports and underscore the pressing need for a comprehensive assessment of water quantity and use in the state's basins. Despite legislative efforts to initiate such analysis, challenges persist in effectively managing Oregon's water resources amidst increasing demands and changing environmental conditions.

With bipartisan support from lawmakers like Rep. Ken Helm and Rep. Mark Owens, who have advocated for a halt in new water permitting until a full water budget is completed, the push for updated water policies in Oregon is gaining momentum. As the state grapples with recurring drought conditions and declining groundwater levels, the call for decisive action on water policy reform has never been more critical. Please stay tuned as we gather more information or get it to you as soon as possible.

Committee Meeting Minutes - January 28, 2024 OSG Executive Old Business

President Jay Sexton called the meeting to order at 9:40am. Members present included Vice President Steve Kroeker. Secretary Sarah Jenkins, Susan Noah, Celia Fox, and Vickie High.

Prior meeting minutes from December 5th, November 5th, and September 23rd were reviewed and approved.

Financial Reports

- > Loan and membership reports were reviewed. Several Granges with low membership were discussed.
- Financial statements and custodial funds were reviewed and discussed. The emergency fund was used last year to support the life membership fund after a decline in investments in 2022.
- Scott Barker met with us to provide a review of our investment portfolio. Our account had a 12.05% return in 2023. Scott recommended that we move out of the American Funds Strategic Bond fund that has not been performing as well as other assets in that category. He recommends that we move to a similar fund through Dodge & Cox. We also discussed the projections for interest rates on our Money Market and CD. In review of our investment policy, we found that it didn't clarify the grade of mutual funds in the same manner as individual bonds. We like the performance of the bond funds and will work with Scott to add language to our investment policy such as, "Mutual funds that are used for this aspect of the asset allocation should be primarily investment grade bonds."
 - Sarah moved that we sell the American Funds Strategic Bond fund and transfer those funds to the Dodge & Cox bond fund. Additionally, move $100,000 from the money market to the Dodge & Cox bond fund. Susan seconded and the motion carried.

Capital Mall Disabled Veterans Memorial - New location west of capital near WW2 and planned Vietnam Memorials. There are good discussions happening with the Oregon State Parks and we hope to see our memorial project completed in 2024.

- The state convention engagement team will be placed up front to welcome people coming into the session on the first day. The team will be meeting this spring to discuss specific activities for first timers.
